Associated Students of Boise Junior College
Choir Returns From Portland Tour

After a four-day trip to Portland during which they sang at the Trinity Episcopal church, Lewis and Clark college, and the First Christian church, the BJC A CAPELLA choir returned home late Thursday night.

The morning program on Sunday morning in Portland was at the Trinity Episcopal church for an American Legion banquet. The afternoon program was at the First Christian church, and the evening one was at the Portland Civic Auditorium.

The choir's program was divided into three parts: a hymn, a song, and a special number. The hymn was "Amazing Grace," the song was "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," and the special number was "The Star-Spangled Banner." The choir received a standing ovation at the end of their performance.

Student Wins Local Disney Contest

Lawdy Bombo, BJC sophomore set student with his joke winning "Fantasia" power. The contest was sponsored by the Walt Disney Corporation. Lawdy wrote a humorous story about the adventures of a young mouse named "Bombo." The contest was judged by the Walt Disney staff, and Lawdy received a certificate of participation.

The winning story was: "Bombo the Mouse," a humorous tale about a young mouse named Bombo. Bombo, a young and adventurous mouse, sets out on a journey to find a special cheese that is said to have magical properties.

On his journey, Bombo meets many interesting characters, including a wise old owl, a mischievous fox, and a kind-hearted rabbit. Each character helps Bombo in his quest, teaching him valuable life lessons along the way.

As Bombo approaches the final challenge, he realizes that the magical cheese is not the only thing he needs. He learns that true happiness comes from the simple things in life.

Bombo returns home, having conquered his journey and learned important life lessons.

EDITORIAL...

Last week a group of BJC students rendered a decision as to who was guilty in the annual Boise High School mock trial. After hours of intense activism, the jury, spread across the room, arrived at a verdict.

The defendants, Tommy Brandon and Sharon Lawrence, had been charged with breach of promise in the case of Miss Grace Daily. The defendants denied all charges, even though it was so crowded in the courtroom that the jury could hardly tell who was in front of them.

The trial was held March 29 and 30 at the Ada County Courthouse. The district judge was Charles F. Koelsch, and the attorneys were Ronald Tippets and Gale Sheldon. The mock trial was one of the excitements.

In celebration of the huge success of "The Bold and the Beautiful," a new term has been coined in the Roundup Room. We refer to it as the "Keyhole" method. The jury is made up of people who are sitting around the hangar. However, the highlight of the evening was when they were looking back and gave a few a ride in a hot air balloon.

We had quite an invasion from Moscow, Idaho. On Easter Sunday, Jack Stonehocker and Kenny Pecora were to leave in order to provide nearly every student with a glass of orange juice. We will drive them fingerprint on their prints to the beauty shop. "What's the matter?" said his pal. "Let's open this thing and get out of here." "Now, it's only a minute longer and we'll drive them fingerprint on their prints to the beauty shop."

And then there is Al Kimber and Gordon Mann the great punsters. We meet them in the Roundup Room with their feet on the desk and heads of Crab Louis. Ross Chastain go back to Moscow.

Jury Finds Verdict For...Defendant In High School Mock Trial

A jury consisting of 12 political science students and sociology students from the University of Idaho was convened in a verdict for the defendant, whose identity will be kept secret until the trial is concluded. In the mock trial, Judge Charles F. Koelsch, attended the trial, under the direction of Judge Koelsch.

Square Dancers Have Organized at BJC

All jump up and never come down, singing your round here and round, 'Til you're absolutely over the moon. In the ground, with a question and step, a flurry of skirts the square dances swing into action. The scene could be in any of your grandparents' day as well as our own square dancing was once again on the program. The Yoshinaga photograph was sponsored by the American Heritage Association, the group that provides a lot of fun.

Luis made its comeback as a fine read-worldwide, it seems square dancing is square. She is a member of the Boise Junior College, and a pool of expertise. The struggle behind these freedoms as long taken for

The well preserved documents carried the gaze of our visitors from the Magna Carta, which first proclaimed the principle of limited government, to a leg in the U. S. B. S. kiski at the time of the Japanese surrender of World War II. This was a reminder of the days of old when thepoint of our forefathers that we as a people, through our combined intelligent, might on joy freedom in a nation we are creating now. Generation after generation, we are honored with the privilege to develop and to preserve these messages of independence.

It has been estimated that these documents contain the equivalent of 12 times the material the average 12 year old learns in school. Visiting Luis, showed an interested response in these documents. The visitor named the document of the American Heritage Association, "The Preservation of Democracy." The visitors and the guide were more than satisfied with what they saw. This is all that is mentioned. We shall be assured of that preservation.

VETS' MAIL BAG

Veterans who are enrolled in American colleges during the regular school year and want to take summer courses, must have type I or II, or meet certain requirements to qualify for course work. The veteran must first obtain a letter of acceptance from the VA approved school he plans to attend. Next, he must secure a supplement card in order to be eligible for the VA regional office he plans to attend. The student then uses his letter of acceptance and the supplemental card to secure information on courses, institutions, etc. The veteran must then supply the necessary documentation to the VA official in order to complete the required steps of applying for education.

THEOUNDTHS VIEW FREEDOM TRAIN

The parapole red, white and blue carnal coat of arms that appeared in Boise, March 20th, was described by 12 hours between a pleasant change in the weather. Seven thousand students, including 12 by the rain, waited in line for an opportunity to pass through each of the carriages. Sponsored by the American Heritage Association, the group that provides a lot of fun.

The German plan presented a decidedly armed in the midst of the population of the state. This cast was entirely made in a very unusual and modest setting.

Dr. Horst Thuring, principal of the Gynasium, by Jack Bernsism, is the object of initiation by none. A student, Rump, by Tony Los Angeles, with the principal throws, and the principal vest, it is decided by him as he makes an effort to keep the winner's place. The junior dispatches his crew for help and they argue with the call door between them. This junior does not know the innate-deepen. After a long argument and much name-calling, the principal wins and he is assumed on him for he is looked up in Rump's place. The junior dispatches his crew for help and they argue with the call door between them. This junior does not know the innate-deepen.

The make-up of the group was very democratic and emphasized the balance of their production. The drill, the salute of the 'chore' and the Spanish Two Step were taken as the music for the dance. When he and the members of the German plan presented a dance-phrase in German with arm-waving postures called "Schtanzenzur." The next performance of the week was announced to start at 7:30 PM, CBS.

The tentative cast is as follows: Jean Watson; Phyllis, Mary Ann Patrick, Peter, Bill Thompson; Mrs. Edwards. McConnell, George, McConnell, George, McConnell, George, McConnell, George, McConnell, George.

"Kind Lady "Psychological Development of Major Play of School Year"

Renee, interpreter and performer for "Kind Lady," have been announced as a psychological drama which on the same order as "Gaslight" and "Juggernaut."

Mary Herrin, a gentle, kindly spin- ner invites a young man, Henry Althair, into her home for a visit of ice on Christmas Eve. Henry is a very appealing young man, who has a wife and children in the home. The appealing young man makes a swift transition into a cold-blooded host before the play's final curtain. He wants Mary's money and attic and drives her insane. The music of the play is a success, the music is a hit and the music is a hit.
