TEACHERS ATTEND SUMMER SCHOOL

Over one-fourth of the faculty members at Boise Junior college have pursued graduate studies in their respective fields during the summer vacation. These faculty members are: George Brickley, physical education, University of Idaho; C. Griffith Bust, music, University of Utah; Juan Calvert, fine arts, University of Oregon; and, Dr. de Neufville, French, the University of Southern California; Dr. Paul E. Baker, dean of men, Bates College; and, Mrs. Mary Mathews, dean of men, Colorado State College.

Dr. de Neufville Returns
From European Tour

Dr. Robert de Neufville, Boise Junior College instructor, returned to Boise after a two-month tour of France, Switzerland, Luxembourg, Belgium, and England the early part of this month. In France he attended courses at the Sorbonne and made a special trip to Tours, Toulouse, and Orange in study of the cathedral and old castles. He reported that he found it difficult to carry on work there than in America, and evidently less than there was a year ago.

"Outwardly Europe appears to be back to normal with greater demand for merchandise. Actually the mass of people are having trouble buying the merchandise because the prices, measured in terms of their pay checks, are so high," he stated.

Storied band to the game with Westminster college November 4. This organization is under the direction of DeForest R. Chase.

At the Chaffey Junior college game on October 27, Homedale high school will appear under the direction of Bannister Rogers. The game was the Junior college band of 45 under the direction Mr. John Bent, will appear at all games. The Homedale school band was sent last year at the Junior Rose Bowl in competition against 14 other Junior college bands.

This Is Your College

Each of you students of BJC should be proud of your school and be willing to contribute to the college life, whether it is in sports, or by putting in various activities and it is worth it to you. In this year, as in the past, be in the forefront to try to maintain recognition among the people of this world as a worthwhile character.

Those who take part in BJC this year, will have the opportunity not only to become more educated, but to have experience which will better prepare you for the business of life which you will soon meet.

If at any time you feel you are not getting your share of opportunities and fun that BJC offers you, stop and analyze yourself to see if you have put anything into the school which enables you to receive any opportunities.

Life isn't just a bowl of roses, but a silver platter handed to you. One must give before one receives.

Remember that, and be proud of willing to take part in college life at Boise Junior College.

Student Regulations

Attendance and Absence from Classes

Students who are absent from their attendance in the courses in which they are enrolled, have to send through the registrar's office, the student's advisor, and the Dean of the College.

A student who has been absent from a class for five consecutive weeks, has to be registered in a class which is under the course, regardless of the cause of absence. If any student: accumulates absences to the extent that he is in danger of withdrawing, the course seems to be of little value to him and detrimental to the interests of the class, the instructor shall warn such student that further absences may cause him to fail the course or to be dropped.

Withdrawal

A student may officially withdraw from college only by securing a withdrawal permit from the Dean of the College, and having it signed by the Dean of the College.

He may withdraw from individual courses by having the permit endorsed by his instructor and signed by the registrar, with whom it is a copy.

A student who does not resign or take a withdrawal permit, from the college, may not receive any opportunities.

If any student actually causes him to fail the course, he shall withdraw as the case may be decided.

Auditing of Accounts

All funds for public purposes within the college and subject to the jurisdiction of either the college or the Association of American life, are to be audited.

CONVERSATION PIECE

People love to talk but hate to listen. Listening is not merely not talking, though even that is beyond our powers; it means tak- ing a vigorous, human interest in what is being told you. You can listen like a blank wall or like a splendid auditorium where every sound comes back fuller and richer.

The best listener I ever know was the late Clarence Day, author of “Life with Father.” He did not listen in silence. He laughed, he groaned, he roared; his eyes shone with surprise and delight. However, until one knew the sanctity he might be reclining.

Mr. Ada Hatch Returns to BJC

A year's sabbatical leave ended Monday when Mrs. Ada Hatch returned to the faculty of the Boise Junior College.

She has taught successively here at BJC, and at SLC, and is an active member of the a capella choir and International Relations club.

BULLETIN

Any student who wishes to help start a Boise Bronco Riding Club, and who has his own horse, please leave a note in Miss Catherin's box in the main office, or see her in person. This club has been organized for the purpose of putting on various riding and polo playing.

Coach George Blankley and his assistant, Ralph Rodgers, were able to see the team's advancement during the past two weeks when the team met with a tough scrimmage against Mountain Home Air Force Base, and during their earnest practices while preparing themselves for Saturday's game. The Broncos really made a good showing against John Muir college, which started the team's season, and extend late in the year for a "better than ever" football year.

Boise Band Plays For First Game

Boise high school band made its debut Saturday night as a halftime feature of the Boise Junior College Broncos football game with John Muir college of Pasadena, Calif.

Mrs. Gottenberg, BJC student affairs director, said the BJC band is reserving marching until further rehearsals have been held.

The BHS band, under the direction of Henry Von der Heide, appeared in marching routine. Other high school bands to be brought here for Bronco stadium appearances this fall are: Wendell, Meridian, Homedale, Mountain Home, Glenns Ferry and Vale, Oregon.
