B.C. To Hold Inter-Fourth Council

The religious groups at BJC have decided to have a representative inter-fourth council at Boise Junior College to coordinate and make more effective the religious activities on the campus. This decision was reached after hearing the representatives who attended the YMCA regional conference earlier in the month. It was felt that a campus Christian association at BJC would act as an arm of the state needed — the purpose of strengthening and coordinating the efforts of the religious groups and individuals. A religious inter-fourth council, however, would include all religious students who are interested in such activities as Christmas services and Easter programs, community service projects and international service projects.

B.J.C. To Play Host To A.F.

Mr. Gottenberg, director of student affairs and publications, announced last Thursday that November 24 has been selected as a day on which the Mountain Home Air Force Base will be honored in Boise. The Boise Junior College has selected this day for the honor.

The Boise football team will play host to the football team from the Boise Bowl. The Air Force will supply a special color guard for the event, also Colonel graduated the color guard of Flavin has assured the Boise Bowl that the Boise Junior College will be flying their flags on the hill at all time if they are available.

All service men will be received free of charge, unless they wish to purchase refreshments at the time.

Game time is 2:00 p.m. in the evening. It is expected that this game is to start with a no date affair. Dancing will be held at the Student Union hall and the Auditorium both. There will be a number of dances that can be expected to turn out for the event. Students will be admitted for their activity fee, while all service men will be admitted without charge.

Grandma's House

Thanksgiving Day is fast approaching and little Johnny and Aaral, so excited that they can't hold it still even long enough for their mother, Carline, to comb their hair in the morning and tie their shoes. They can't but you can guess they why they are so excited! Of course, Daddy had Parout come home from work at the Great and Service Guard last night with the news they were going to visit Grandma June O'Brien on Thanksgiving Day.

Ah, at least the great morning here. Johnny and Janet pile out of bed and run into the window. The sun is shining very brightly, it is cold and pouring down rain and the leaves are falling gradually to the ground. What a beautiful day for the country to ride in Grandma's house.

Mother called the kids to a very light breakfast because of the big dinner that is planned for the afternoon. The kids gobbled down their meal and immediately they went looking for the turkey. They were more in about 25 hours. Celly, who is a grandad girl to the core, she hurled herself down the door and found her in the barn and bird and her dinner on the end of her nose, and said, "Land sakes, children, come out in the snow and dry your shoes." They did and when they were dry, they went. Deedle took the kids out to the barnyard and showed them the turkeys they were going to eat.

What a big turkey! He was different from most turkeys. He was all white with red and green stripes. "I think they call that a turkey a Rehmanopontic," one of the students said.

The kids sat up on a fence and watched while Deedle chased the turkeys around the barnyard. While he was still trying to cook the turkey, he ran into an old dark, white name was Deedle. Deedle, running out of the cattle pin in her hand, shouting, "Lazy me, Deedle, get that there bird in here so I can get it cooked." Boy, it was sure pouring how fast he caught that old bird and get his hand chopped off and his arm all cut up, I think he was just showing off to kids that he could catch that bird and his for all his chopped up, you can just imagine, can't you? Oh, there is the best in the barnyard and tomorrow and jary for food or money. A.W.C. members will be in the library, main office and the Student Union.

What, don't forget, now!

A.W.C. Collects Food For Baskets

Today and tomorrow are the days for bringing in food or money for the A.W.C.'s Thanksgiving baskets.

"One, just think what that basket is going to mean to some poor family this Thursday, who otherwise might have nothing to eat on Thanksgiving. Won't their eyes light up when they see it? You can just imagine, can't you? I sure am happy to have every last one of you, students, faculty, too, being something for it. Even a penny will help, you know."

Students Union

The boys in the barn will be the main hall of today and tomorrow for food and money donations will be in the office, main office and the Student Union.

Don't forget, now!

"Producer: "Boy, why does the state of Missouri stand at the head of rules-making in this country?"

"State: "Because the other end?"

"Producer: "You stand alongside of a long black horse and look like a white horse."

"State: "I don't know. What would I look like?"

"Producer: "Beautiful."

PROUDLY WE HAIL

Proudly we hail that fact again Boise Junior College has completed the football conference undefeated.

Donuts and cokes will be served as the initiations, the two groups, not concerned with the club, so that he might be able to get his "strong man" football.

Weekly Wisdom

ByCOENMOTTER

One can't help but be amazed by the drastic lack of united cooperation among the leaders in directing our national and international policies. Any attempt by the yeestereyers will understand the fact that Nicos has to pull together as one if they were to move the load. Can it be, in this age of mechanization with the passing of Old Tom and Dick, that we have forgotten this all important requirement for success?

Scriptural Wisdom: Neither pray we for those alone, but for them also who believe on Me through their word; that they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one; that the world may believe that thou hast sent me.

(St. John 18:20-21)

Inside Thurber

James Thurber, the author, is not mechanically minded. One day when he was out driving his car, he glanced at the dashboard and noticed a warning that his brakes were out of order and observed to his horror that one of the discs was worn.

"Good heavens!" he muttered. "This car is burning up."

Facing such an explosion at any moment, he pulled it in at the nearest service station and extolled his predicament to the attendant.

The latter listened patiently, then stepped into the car to take a look. Thurber retired behind the gas pump, his face white.

"Well," asked the humorist, nervously, "have you located the trouble?"

"Yes," replied the bored attend.

A few minutes later he called, "Your radio is tuned to WZZ.

Star of the Week

This week's stat is Boise's "Power man" Dwight Winslow. Dwight Winslow occupies the fullback spot for the Broncos and has driven through for many yards this season. Speculators have commented that Winslow seems to creep to the line of scrimmage when he hits the hole he's off like a bullet and doesn't like to be stopped.

This is Dwight's last year of football playing for the Broncos. He did a fine job last year and has done even a better one this year. Winslow came to BJC from Closedwell. He hasn't decided on his future career but I'm sure whatever he goes we will hear about his football playing.

It seems Mr. Winslow has no troubles. The world treats him fine and he never worries. Dwight will always be happy if he keeps this attitude in life and I'm sure we will be happy if he continues playing his "strong man" football.

And then there was the naturalist who tried to cross a turkey with a centipede so everybody could have a dramatic.

Steadfastly hope to be in the basketball class to determine the top boy in competition this year. Games have been missing quantity but in a couple of weeks the champions should be known.

Fond Memories

"Ah, the flowers that bloomed the spring, tra la! — let the memories, violins, that are now — as we sit gliding in this city, cold month of November."

We walk over the campus and our noses and our faces glow up as the snow capped to come — and think of those good days all three of those months. It was so nice and warm, Man, oh man, if this thing November what? If it is in December, January and February! Oh, dear, spring is coming, in a few weeks, we are waiting!*
