Roundup

Boise, Idaho, January 12, 1952

Pictured above are the students from Meridian. This group has the largest number of students going to the college than any other town besides Boise.

Meridian Students

Some of the most outstanding and unusual students of BJC have to come the farthest to get here every day. Of course, we're speaking of the ones that drive in from Meridian every morning and back again at night. That makes it rather difficult when they have plays and practices and all sorts of other activities but they seem to like the life and thrive on it. Once in a while we get a chance to see a result of their hard efforts in scholarship and participation on the campus.

Of the several the band, Valkyries, B-Cubes and most of the other clubs on the campus have leaders from Meridian. Leon Vostrez is in the band and helped us cheer our team on during the football season and is busy now working on new material for the basketball games. He is one of the most modest people of Meridian. Oh, he did a little of this and that, but unless you have inside information on the guy, you're helpless to find out just what he likes, what he does, and what he dislikes most. He's a pretty likeable chap, and grins about anything if it happens to please him, as most everything does. In high school he quietly admits that he won a few "minor awards" in FFA. These little "trinkets", we understand, are the pride and joy of his life.

Lawrence Kent is another of those fellows who just won't confess to anything except that he now has someone to share everything with him. His new bride!

Ray Miller and Gerald West are always seen together and so we'll just have to tell about both of them together. Pep hats. Now that's an interesting subject to talk to both of these young men about. It seems they tried their darnedest not to sell any. They pulled them out of shape and that's what did the trick. Everyone likes them that way. We don't know exactly just what they have to do with the student council or what their official duties are but last year they practically planned graduation themselves. And being officers in Pi Sigma Sigma isn't a teensy-weensy job either, you know. So it just so happens that these two are very vital V.I.P.'s around this school.

Another twosome that is next to impossible to separate are the Neilson-Hartwell duo. These two ambitious girls were in everything a freshman girl could do last year and this year are equalling their record. High school was the beginning of their joint careers as stars in the play which went to the district festival and took second place. They have continued to prove their worth scholastically and as leaders of their fellow classmen.

Nancy Poe and Ruthanne Fountain are two more outstanding students from that far away place. Nancy gives her bid to fame and accomplishments as "being in everything and doing absolutely NOTHING!" But that isn't the way we heard it, so we suggest that you really have some fun sometime and ask her. Ruthanne must be mentioned also as a current victim of the chicken pox. Wish her luck in her make-up work.

And last we come to Howard Adkins. Now there is a young man who really knows what he is doing while he is doing it. Didn't we have a good Homecoming this year? All because of Howard's master-minding, too. Let's face it, we can't have looks, talent and brains. So Howard, we'll just have to admire yours while we have the chance.

Happiness is a peculiar sensation you get when you're too busy to be miserable.

The optimist is often as wrong as the pessimist—but he is far happier.

Student of the Week

Featured this week as our special student is Miss Mary Lou Edner. Miss Edner came to Boise four years ago from Cheyenne, Wyoming. After completing her studies at Boise high school, Mary Lou entered BJC last fall. She is taking an art course prior to her future plans of being an interior decorator. In her extra-curricular activities Mary Lou is a member of the B-Cubes of which she is vice president and treasurer. For another achievement Mary Lou was elected as this year's I.K. Duchess from a field of five candidates.

For her special interests Mary Lou lists tennis and swimming, along with watching basketball and football. Her favorite food is roast turkey, her favorite drink is ---uh, water. Seriously, Miss Edner is a sweet and typical American young woman with a pleasant smile and kind word for everyone.

I came to work one morning complaining of "an awful cold in my head," and the boss remarked, "Well, that's something."

Annual Sweetheart Ball To Be Held February 14

One of the biggest dances of the year, the annual Sweethearts Ball, is now being planned by the Associated Women. The dance is formal—no corsages—and will be held on February 14, Valentine's Day. Highlighting the evening will be the crowning of the King of Hearts. Any boy is eligible for this honor. Nominations will be taken on the 19th and 20th of this month with final voting at a later date. Marian Watson and Terry Wagstaff are in charge of the election. Other committee heads are: decorations, Sharon White and Carma Murdock; publicity, Terry Wagstaff; invitations, Norma Dike, and Ruth Williams; intermission, Norene Machos and Marjorie Newton; tickets, Ilene Muhlestein and Lucy Spackman; and programs, Danny Neilson. The dance is a girl ask boy affair with everyone invited.

Winter Concert Sunday, Jan. 18

The Boise Junior College Community Symphony will present it's Winter Concert, Sunday, January 18, 4:00 p.m. in the college auditorium. Two modern works will be included in the program. A Dance Rhapsody by the late English impressionist Delius, and the Overture by the contemporary French composer Poulenc. The main offering of the concert is the Symphony No. 4 (tragic) of Schubert.

Featured in the program will be a string quartet composed of Stella Marfarette Hopper, Betty Rae Clare, Donald Six, and Lucile Braithwaite. They will appear as a concertino group in the concerto grosso "Introduction and Rigaudon" by Handel.

The Symphony Concert is the second of Vesper Series sponsored by the college. There is no charge for admittance.

Valkyries Sponsor Rummage Sale

A rummage sale was held, January 10 at Paul's Auction Yard by the Valkyries. Assisting these girls were all the new Valkyrie pledges.

A special invitation was received by the Valkyries from the Red Cross asking the girls if they would like to aid them in their routine work. Each week two girls will be asked to assist.

Newman Club's Levi-Socks Dance Proves Big Success

Last Friday night the Newman Club sponsored a Union night after the BJC basketball game. The affair was a levi-sock dance and it provided barrels of fun and whales of laughter for everyone. There was a short intermission in which some of the club members participated in a skit. These people included Phil Maugher, Harry Wander, Art Mayes, Miki Flaherty, Bob Peck and Emma Radler.

Some of the people seen dancing and enjoying themselves were Bunny Kane, Gary Collett, Sherman Snyder, Leone Sweeney, Marian Watson, Norma Dike, Esther Beeson, Joe Garro, Al Moore, Babe Craig, Dannie Nielson, and many others. Chairman of the affair was Phyllis Chamberlain.

Safety Director Speaks to Engineering Class

Mr. J. J. Williams, director of safety for Morrison-Knudsen Co. spoke to the engineering class of the college on subjects concerning safety and ways to prevent accidents, last Thursday, January 8.

Mr. Williams pointed out in his speech that more industries are using safety engineers in their fields of work and that chemical or electrical engineering degrees are usually needed for safety engineering.

Out of 155 million people, 1 million have been killed in the last 30 years as a result of automobile accidents; 1350 lives were lost over Christmas and New Years in car accidents, whereas, only 250 people were killed on construction jobs last year, Morrison-Knudsen lost nine men as a result from accidents last year.

Mr. Williams stated that the basic progress of safety is working with people and that management has given safety much more consideration since the last world war.

For students interested in safety work courses are offered in safety at the University of Pennsylvania, University of Chicago and several other schools also offer various courses in safety work.

Broncos Host NNC Tuesday

The Boise Junior College Broncos will play against the Nazarene College of Nampa tomorrow night in the High School gymnasium. This is the second game between BJC and NNC this year, the Broncos won the first.

This will be the seventh game of the basketball season. Out of the six games already played, the Broncos have won six and lost one.

The basketball squad will travel to Ogden, Utah and the 16th and 17th of this month where they will compete with Weber Junior College.

Auditorium Gets New Look For Organ

The Boise Junior College auditorium is undergoing a complete renovation preparatory to the arrival of the new $35,000 organ.

Eugene B. Chaffee, president of the college, said the interior of the building is being completely re-decorated in a light cocoa-brown with the complete west end being finished in oak paneling. The work for this is being done in the college woodworking shop.

To harmonize with the entire effect, new linen tapestry draperies will be hung and oak pews manufactured by an Idaho company will be installed. These will seat approximately 600. New lighting fixtures have already been hung. They consist of six chandeliers, three above each aisle and are of bronze and crystal.

The organ is being shipped January 9th and it is expected to arrive around the 20th of the month. Workmen from the San Francisco branch office will have charge of assembling the instrument.

Teacher of the Week

Miss Bessie Falk has proven her ability in three fields, in sports as Boise Valley Inter Golf champion, in the business world as operator of a candy and wholesale company, and on the Boise Junior College campus as an outstanding teacher.

Miss Falk's favorite playground is McCall where she enjoys skiing in the winter and all kinds of water sports including speedboating during the summer season.

Miss Falk was in charge of the business department at BJC during the war years. In 1946 she resigned to enter business. This fall the faculty and students were most happy to welcome her back. Miss Falk says, "I returned to Boise Junior College because I like to teach and feel that there is a definite need for business teachers who have practical business experience."

Miss Falk is a native Idahoan; graduated from Boise high school and then went on to get her AB degree from Stanford and her master's degree at the University of New York. She has taught in the Nampa and Caldwell high schools and conducted University of Idaho extension courses in the cities in Boise Valley.

Organ On Its Way

The new organ is on its way to Boise Junior College auditorium. It began its trip by truck January 9th from Hartford, Connecticut, and should arrive here sometime between January 19th and the 23rd.

BJC Host to Harlem Globetrotters January 29

The Broncos play the Harlem Globetrotters January 29. This game is not on the student activity ticket, so students will have to pay 74c for the game. All faculty members are advised that complimentary tickets will not be honored for this game. Prices have been established ranging from $1.00 for end seats in the balcony, $1.50 side seats in balcony to $2.40 for downstairs seats. Students seats will be on the stage.

BJC Choir To Sing at Air Base

The Mountain Home Air Base has asked that the Boise Junior College choir give a thirty-minute program February 9th. The program will be part of the observance of Annual Protestant Mission, February 9-15.

The transportation to the base will be furnished and the students will also be treated to dinner, a tour of the base and an inspection of the flying boxcars.

Nothing inspires confidence in a business man sooner than punctuality, nor is there any habit which sooner saps his reputation than that of always being behind time.

Work hard and save your money and when you are old you can have the same things only young people can enjoy.

It takes two to speak the truth, one to speak, and another to hear.

LOST OR STRAYED

Two men left a banquet, together after they had dined too well. "When you get home," advised one, "if you don't want to disturb the family, undress at the foot of the stairs, fold your clothes neatly and creep upstairs into bed. The undressing in your room awakens the wife."

Next day they met at lunch. "How did you get along?" asked the one.

"Rotten," said the other. "I took off all my clothes at the foot of the stairs, as you told me, folded them neatly. I didn't make a sound. But when I got to the top of the stairs, I found it was an L-station."

I'll bet you can't write eleven thousand, eleven hundred and eleven right the first time.

Expect to get the order—just hope to get it.
