Attention, All Clubs

All the clubs of BJC who wish to sell concessions at a basketball game are requested to present their request to JoAnn Hartzler some time before Wednesday, December 10. The clubs that request concessions will be turned in to the student council and the names of the specific clubs for each game will be decided as they see fit. If the clubs want one of these games it is very important that they tell JoAnn Hartzler before Wednesday. If the clubs don't file for this privilege it will be assumed that they are not interested in selling and the other clubs will get to sell at two or more games.

CHEAP AT ANY PRICE

A Russian conferred with the director of his bank. "I have saved a thousand rubles," he said. "How can I invest them?"

The director suggested government bonds, "Comrade Stalin guarantees the security of your money."

"But what if Comrade Stalin dies? What then?"

"Then," explained the director, "you will have the whole Communist party to stand good for your money."

The potential investor was still unconvinced. "Suppose the army were beaten, then the party would fall, wouldn't it?"

Immediately the director leaned over and whispered: "Heavens, comrade, wouldn't that be worth one thousand rubles to you?"

Student of the Week

Featured as our second student of the week is Miss Zuriel Elvin. In 1951, Miss Elvin graduated from West High School in Salt Lake City then came to Boise to attend B.J.C. Zuriel is a sophomore this year and is majoring in a business course. After finishing her studies here, Zuriel plans to attend either Brigham Young University or Washington State College. For her special interests, Miss Elvin lists dancing, swimming, listening to good music and boys. (Not any one in particular!) For her extracurricular activities she belongs to the Valkyries and is chairman of the Union Night dances. Besides these, Zuriel finds time to work in Mrs. Burke's office, so you see she is a fairly busy little lady. But, busy or not, Zuriel is always beaming with a smile for everyone.

The modern girl hasn't an hour-glass figure, but she makes every minute of it count.

Morrison Hall News

Morrison Hall girls drew names for Christmas at their last house meeting, Monday evening. They are planning to set up a Christmas tree in the lounge as soon as it can be arranged. Time is growing shorter, remember there are only fourteen days left to shop.

Ina Routson donated all her tree decorations to Morrison Hall at the meeting. The girls are happy to have them and they will be there for future use in the dormitory.

Plans for the Morrison Hall formal are getting well under way also. Committees were appointed to begin serious work so that this dance may be set to go before the girls leave for vacation.

Debate News

The Boise Junior College debate squad, under the direction of Mr. Harold Wennstrom, is now planning future trips for the month of January.

All students interested in debate are urgently requested to contact Mr. Wennstrom or Lee Rodman. Debate meetings are held each Monday, Wednesday, and Friday noons at a table in the rear of the Student Union building.

The school has appropriated funds for the debate team. Transportation is also provided for the debaters who wish to travel with the team in intercollegiate competition. This year's college debate question is, "Resolved, that the Congress of the United States Should Adopt a Fair Employment Practices Commission." This topic is of much concern to each and every one of us. New members and a large debate squad is needed.

CLASSICS

Can you quote me some Shakespeare? Good, if you can. And what if you can't? Well, it's not exactly a crime but you can always chatter off "A horse, a horse, my kingdom for a horse." But then that doesn't always fit the case. Maybe you can substitute with (and we hope this is right) "Pardon the French Dr. de Neufville!—Comme ci, comme ca. (Come see, come saw). Suppose you were accosted in a dark alley some late midnight. What would you say to your companion? La vida es un juego, verdad? Could be.

What's more, have you ever been to a Greek classic in drama or such? Well, the way that those characters chase each other around the stage in their togas and the battles royal that they carry on, are even better, we'd say, than the westerns down town. Just read one sometime.

But opera is what is really thrilling. Kingdoms fight kingdoms. Carmen probably could have won the Miss Boise contest at a very early age. The Barber of Seville probably wouldn't charge so much for a shave now-a-days and the service might be just a little bit better.

But all kidding aside, there really is something worthwhile to appreciate in the classics of the world. For instance, you saw the film on "Ivanhoe" and also "Plymouth Adventure", so judge for yourself. We guarantee that some of the most fabulous adventures of people just like us reside in the form of books, music and plays. Won't you join us in the Charleston?

Inter-Faith Council

The Inter-Faith Council, at a recent meeting of the representatives, elected officers for the ensuing year. They were as follows: President, Genena Greer; vice-president, Steve Emerine; secretary-treasurer, Mary Gottenberg.

The members of the Council assisted two churches in delivering Thanksgiving baskets to the needy. Just before Christmas, the Council will provide a Christmas assembly program for the students of the college. The program will be provided by the college choir which will give a number of Christmas carols. In February the Council will sponsor Brotherhood week at the time of Washington's birthday. At that time a number of speakers representing the principal religions will appear at classes and will give an assembly program to the whole student body.

Another activity of the Council is to provide fireside meetings at which time religious and social problems will be discussed.

A. W. News

This year the Associated Women are sponsoring a Christmas project in which everyone is invited to help. They are asking everyone to bring food or money which the club will give to needy families for Christmas. If you wish to bring money, jars will be put in the Union, in the library and in the main office to take care of your donations. Non-perishables will be put in boxes in the main hall.

Dean Mathews Art Judge At Salt Lake Show

Conan Mathews, instructor in art at Boise Junior College, was one of the two judges November 29 in the 50th annual Utah Institute of Fine Arts held in the Capitol building in Salt Lake City. The other judge was Richard Sorley of the University of Denver.

Over 300 paintings were judged by the two men with Mathews in charge of the conservative art and Sorley judging the modern works. All paintings were the works of Utah artists and prizes were awarded in oil, water colors and portrait classes.

Teacher of the Week

Whom do you know that can combine coin collecting and traveling as hobbies? Most people find it a little difficult to hang on to their money while traveling, but Mr. LeRoy Helwitt has managed to save a considerable number of rare coins. He began collecting coins in New Orleans where he purchased a wooden box of miscellaneous coins in an old antique shop. He started traveling at a very early age and has visited Canada and all the states in the Union with the exception of four, New Hampshire, Vermont, Maine and Florida.

Mr. Hewlett's next trip will be to Ann Arbor, where he has been accepted at the University of Michigan in the post graduate school to study for his doctorate in library science.

Mr. Hewlett went to the University of Oregon, in his home town of Eugene, where he got his bachelor of arts degree in history. Cleveland, Ohio, was his next destination while he studied for his masters degree in library science at the Western Reserve university.

Boise Junior College is a wonderful place to start a career, says Mr. Hewlett, and "I am enjoying my job as assistant librarian in a college where the students and teachers are so friendly and cooperative."

Ski Club News

Bronco Ski club had its first meeting for the season recently. Officers were elected and a short business meeting followed to decide some of the steps to be taken during ski season. Those elected to hold offices were: Bob Donnelly, president; Gale Davis, vice president; Shirley Byrn, secretary-treasurer.

Bill Everetts, city recreational director, spoke before the group about racing competition and just plain old skiing. He showed a movie named, "Sun Valley Spring Ski Chase." The movie was in color and exciting to those who are anxious to get back to the skis.
