WHERE'S CHARLIE?

In a globe, reflected light is a thing of beauty, a glow in the dark. Charlie Brown, a student at Boise Junior College, has become a part of the picture. No one in the college has become a part of the picture larger than Charlie Brown, occupying one of his walking hours. Charlie has Charlie and his devotion to work been an inseparable part of the school.

With nearly two decades of service as a head counselor behind him, Charlie tells us that the biggest hit he has received has been having this school grow out of that once was practically deserted. "It makes you feel good," he tells us, "that you have had it in you to build it up to the time it is now." As a member put it, "It's nothing finding one thing that you can do. If you mention it and Charlie Brown will be right on the job, working his way into the job. He will be there, he will be there. He has earned his stripes and his time is his own, but when he takes the time to help, he will help. He is a man who calls the Newman club to the Newman club and royal club.

BROTHERRIOD
This week we have an assembly on brotherhood. To many of us this word may not seem clear and we may not even pay any attention to it. But whether or not we are conscious of the fact that we need united brotherhood it is a proven truth that we all are equal. We have to treat all people, despite their color, race or creed, as equals.

Look around and count the different nationalities we come in contact with each day. Do we frown on the Jew, Negro or German? Some people do, and that is what brotherhood week is for. We need united people without any racial discrimination whatsoever.

Stand up for the other races and the world will seem a little more like a good place to live in and we all can cooperate in order to promote world-wide peace for all.

Jessie's Jewels
"I hear-music when I look at you.
A beautiful melody, a rhythm new.
" Might well be what we should sing to Terry Wagstaff and Warren Popperlin. These two are really talented students and many students are both appreciative and religious of Mr. Meyer and bring strains rich and merry to the ear
of one who truly appreciates music. Warren studied here before serving in the 30's and now is back again to continue his piano work. He has appeared in several recitals and has displayed her showmanship and love of music each time to an impressed audience. Russell Hartl was appointed chairman of a committee to compile suggestions on how to minimize this evil that has been apparently quite widespread in some classes.

By unanimous vote the board decided to investigate the committee's findings. Reports are expected to be made before the semester examinations were unevenly distributed and the result was that many students had as many as four examinations in one class. The committee, composed of Kathleen Cunnor and Ray Miller, will make a report at the next regular meeting of the executive board.

It was noted by the board that all members of both the board and officers of the freshman class had met the scholastic requirements of a 2.0 average for the first semester work. The board voted its approval of the scholastic requirement.

The Player of the Week
Meet the player of the week, Russell Thomas Gooding, known to all at BJC as "Big Tom" Gooding. Gooding says he has no hobbies and no ambition in life. When asked how he liked BJC, his comment was, "It has its advantages." Tom resides at Driestell hall, and his one and only pastime, when he is not playing basketball, is playing bridge. Upon completion of his sophomore year, he will go back to the University of Idaho.

Regional Basketball Tournament
March 12, 13, 14
Regional tournament schedule last Friday and Saturday nights, BJC cagers are working out in anticipation of the National Junior College Association Regional Tournament, coming up March 12, 13 and 14 at Snow College, Ephraim, Utah.

"I can do anything in the world, if I'm well."
said the first lunatic. "Nothing is impossible for me."

"I'll bet you can't walk up on it." said the first, "When I'm half way up you'll turn off the light."

"There's one thing you can't do," said the second. "When I throw a beam of light from my flashlight I'll bet you can't walk up on it."

"Do you think I'm an idiot?"
When I throw a beam of light from my flashlight I'll bet you can't walk up on it.

January Thaw Postponed
Until March 23, 24, 25

January Thaw," this year's all winter blowout, reports were given on discussions back to the University of Idaho, and was
