BJC Gains Wooden Indian In Game

Question Box

Question: "What do you attribute to the secret of your beard?"

Ans. Am. Frosh, Barber Junction
I feel that a proper massage administered by the female sex intermittently has been my greatest boon. I am sure that without this treatment my chin would never have been able to produce to this extent."

Ans. Smith, Soph, Tablerock Flats
Every night I seed it down, add 1 part water and 3 parts alcohol, let it set for 655 minutes, extract with rubbing alcohol. I don't know if it does my beard any good but the remaining skin is tough."

Ans. Sweetman, Soph, Boise
Every night I put on three inches of plaster of paris and keep it on all night. In the morning my beard has grown through the plaster and cracked it off. I feel that this exercise for my beard is the secret of its success."

Ans. Johnson, Frosh, Boise
I lacked Ise Spulnik for a solution to bathe my beard in to get rid of the growth and he recommended three parts hydrochloric acid and one part potassium chlorate. I added that I should ferment this solution for one week. I have not finished the fermenting process so I have not used it. However, I am a little skeptical because I accidentally dropped my ring in this stuff and it dissolved before I could pull it out."

Ans. Rhodes, Frosh, Boise
"Complete relaxation of the facial muscles, no strenuous thoughts of the mind, keeping cool at a normal temperature and shampooing beard vigorously each night."

As a result of the Broncos' win over Weber Junior college October 24, Boise Junior college is now the possessor of a wooden Indian for one year. This Indian was brought to Boise by a group of Weber Students and pep club girls, and presented to the Broncos. This trophy will serve as a symbol of the Weber-BJC football series, and each year will go to the victorious team.

According to Jerry Crandall, BJC student body president, the one presented was only a temporary trophy and a hurry-up job which will be replaced by a permanent trophy. He said that the Weber students took the original back with them, and that the BJC student council will probably decide where the replacement will be placed when it is returned to the BJC campus.

Dance To Honor Football Team

Plans are underway for the Homecoming dance on Saturday evening, November 14, according to Leone Sweeney, general chairman. The dance will be held at the Student Union beginning at 9:00 p.m. This year the dance will be semi-formal and will be planned especially to honor the football players, past and present.

All students are urged to attend, as they will be admitted on their activity ticket — one per couple. Alumni will also be welcomed at this dance, but only if they have made reservations for tickets in advance. No tickets will be issued at the door the night of the dance. Alumni wishing to secure tickets are requested to call Mrs. Burke at the college, phone 3-2841, extension 21, anytime before Friday noon, November 13.

BJC STUDENTS INVITED TO DEBATE WITH OR AGAINST THE DEBATE SQUAD

Mums Go On Sale

The Associated Women Students will begin their annual sale for the Homecoming Mums this week. According to Mrs. Burke, mums will be bigger than ever this year, resplendent with chenille "B's" in royal blue in the centers and tied with blue satin ribbons. This year, the mums will be delivered in cellophane bags with gift cards furnished. Every man on the campus will want to be sure that his girl, his mother, or his wife has one of these traditional flowers to wear to the game and, afterwards, to the Homecoming dance.

Only mums ordered in advance will be delivered at the Homecoming game. Mums may be ordered in room 212 in the Administration building, all this week and next, between the hours of 10:00 and 3:00. Only a limited number have been ordered, so be sure to get your order in early. The complete corsage will be delivered to the girl of your choice for $1.25, payable when you order.

The big mum with the chenille "B", and the school-color ribbon is the traditional and official badge for Homecoming. Not only will they make the stadium gay with color at the afternoon game, but they have been declared the official corsage for the dance that evening. Remember, get in to room 212 and order your mum for either the game or the dance!

Meet The Teacher

Thomas H. Newton, auto mechanics instructor, has been chosen as the Roundup's teacher of the week.

While Mr. Newton has lived in Boise for almost eight years, this is his first year on the BJC faculty. In fact, this is his first year of teaching. For instructors in this field, men are chosen from industrial positions rather than from the field of education.

Originally from Apollo, Pennsylvania, Mr. Newton married a local girl whom he met while stationed at Gowen Field. He spent three and a half years as a pilot in the air force.

Mr. Newton has four sons and a daughter of whom he is very proud but regrets the fact that now all the young ladies will know he has a wife and family. Next to talking about his "kids", his line of work is his favorite topic. He is one of the lucky ones whose hobby grew into his life's work.

Although Mr. Newton is a sports fan, he says that one is more likely to find him with a wrench in his hand than a football. In his school days it was the same... he was too busy tinkering with cars to take too great an interest in sports.

Although it is quite a jump for Mr. Newton to suddenly begin teaching, he is sure he will like it very much. Since this is the first year this course has been offered, things are not yet really organized. According to Mr. Newton, few people realize the detail that is involved in auto mechanics, from the office work to the machinery. He teaches a six-hour day course and a night class.

Your sex doesn't matter—you, too, can be a debater!

"Enthusiasm and interest stimulated from serious thought are the only requirements to become a good debater," so said the head of the BJC speech department, Mr. Harold Wennstrom.

He also added, "lack of previous debate or speech experience is not a handicap. Any student who feels he has these requirements is welcome to try out for the team."

Interested students also may form their own team and be given a chance to compete against the college team.

A debate squad consists of two teams of two members each, debating the pros and cons of a subject.

This year for nation-wide competition debating teams will debate the subject, "Resolved—that the United States should adopt a policy of free trade."

Mr. Wennstrom pointed out that the first intramural debates began Friday morning with the teams debating for Mr. Rose's economics class. On November 16, 17 and 18 the Bob Fifer contest will be held, with the winning team representing BJC at the championship debate contest in Pullman, Washington, November 20 and 21. The winner of the Bob Fifer contest will receive $20 and the runner-up will receive $10. Judges of this contest will be BJC faculty members.

Students interested in debate are urged to contact Mr. Wennstrom at one o'clock on Tuesdays and Thursdays in building T-1.

WUS Campaign To Be Extended

Larry Smythe, freshman, who is local chairman of the World University Service drive, is pleased with the interest shown by BJC students. He says the WUS week campaign was a successful one and shows what response there can be for a good cause.

The money which was collected in the hall under the slogan, "Follow the Line With Your Dime," will be sent to region headquarters in Portland. There, it will become a part of the World Student Service Fund.

The fund helps foreign college students by making available to them rest care, books, and other necessities of college life. Some examples of how the fund is used are: two dollars will pay for a day's care at the WUS international rest center in Camboux, France; $10 will send a CARE package to Korea; $12 will pay for a month's stay at the WUS hostel for student refugees in Calcutta; $50 will purchase five UNESCO gift coupons and send scientific laboratory equipment to the University of Damascus; $1600 will provide x-ray equipment for the University of Indonesia.

The campaign will be extended through Christmas, so that campus organizations which wish to contribute may raise funds to do so.

Vets Corner

Veterans under Public Law 550 —If you haven't signed your attendance record for October go to the main office and sign it.

Bob Cox, chairman of the membership drive of the American Legion, John Reagan Post No. 2, reports that a new membership drive is now underway and urges all veterans to join.

The fee is only six dollars a year, including the magazine. Interested veterans may contact Bob here at the school.

Vandalism . . .

Last week several acts of vandalism were perpetrated at the College of Idaho and Boise Junior College. Burning of school football fields, white-washing and painting of buildings and the setting off of fire crackers.

No one realizes more than the faculty of each school that raiding a rival's campus is a part of school life; however, when it involves destruction of school property the time has come to stop. To take a school's sign is one thing but the burning of property is another.

The students of both schools are mature enough to end these acts of vandalism on their own and it is hoped that we have seen the last of these acts.

Ed Lodge, swift Bronco back, breaks into the clear and goes 51 yards to score against the Wildcats.

Player of Week

About one month ago Fred Miklancic was just another fullback playing behind Don White and Bill Baxter and were it not for injuries to White and Baxter Fred might never have had his chance to show his stuff.

Against Yakima Fred ran 37 yards to set up one touchdown. Against Westminster Fred ran 30 yards to set up a Bronco TD and against Weber he ran 57 yards to set up another. Miklancic is one back who is always trying to go the distance and spark a Bronco drive. For his hard work he is our player of the week.

With the return of Bill Baxter Fred will be pushed a little for his job but as long as he turns in those runs, he will stay the number one fullback on the squad.

Broncs Run Over Weber 26-6

The football forces of Coach Lyle Smith added their second conference win by downing the Weber Wildcats 26-6 before some 5,000 fans at Bronco Stadium.

Playing just enough football to win, the Broncs scored their first TD in the second period when Merle Eden scored from the 6-yard line.

Later in the second period the Broncs marched 80 yards to score. Fullback Fred Miklancic sparked the drive with a brilliant 57-yard run over his left guard. Right half Bryant Lemon ended it all by going the last 10 yards on a reverse and the score went 13-0.

Early in the third period Ed Lodge broke over his right tackle and sprinted 51 yards to score.

With only three minutes left to play the Broncs kicked off and Roger Cook, Weber half back, took the ball on his 6-yard line and behind a wave of Wildcat blockers broke loose on the Weber 40-yard line and went 26 yards to score the Wildcats' only touchdown.

Football Notes

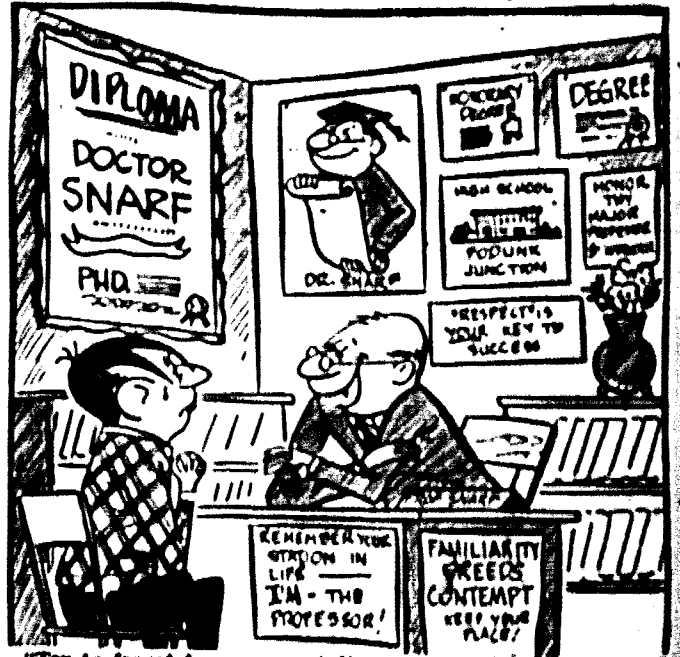

The return of Bill Baxter and Jim Warner may be the shot in the arm that will push the Broncs through the rest of the season without a defeat. At this point of the season it is much too early to expect such a feat but barring the loss of players due to injury Coach Smith's gridlers have a chance.

The return of Baxter and Warner was no accident. Both players, despite their handicaps, worked out with the rest of the squad to keep in top physical condition. Both of them learned the offense as Coach Smith gave it to the rest of the ball club. Perhaps it is the spirit shown by Baxter and Warner that is the driving force behind this year's ball club. For whatever the Broncs may lack in physical size they make up with club spirit.

The coming games with Bacon and Pasadena will be the center of interest for Bronco fans. Both ball clubs are loaded with material and gunning for the Broncs. Both clubs have been averaging 6 points per game. However, before the Bacon game the Broncs must take on the Ricks Vikings and that could be a tough game.
