BJC Roundup

BOISE, IDAHO

November 23, 1953

Question Box

Question: "What do you think of Pipo?"

Norma Smith, Avenue "A", Idaho: "It all depends on the chemistry of the blood. If the PH gets hypotonic, there can be no pipo."

Judy Thomas, Deadman's Gulch, Arizona: "I believe that the fast pace between the hospital and of BJC will eliminate anything."

Karen Dymoke, Boondocks, Idaho: "I am not sure if I know what that means but the way to find square root is a long and complicated process and I haven't the time to tell you now."

Donald Schutz, Pineview, Idaho: "Sure. I think that cutting classes is the only plan."

Bob Riggs, Boise, Idaho: "To indulge or not to indulge is the question I don't."

Marilyn Hurst, Silver Creek, Idaho: "I think that people who see skate in the summer should take English as their major."

Betty Henderson, Golden, Idaho: "It is my opinion that bridge games in the Union should go. Not that it is a waste of time, etc., but no one in this school can bid properly."

Anne Travis, Platinum, Idaho: "Sure the penal institutions of this country are lax. I know of four or five people here that they must have missed."

Dick Priest, Rocky Bar, Idaho: "Can you feed it to girls?"

(In case you don't know, and I am sure you don't, "pipo" means "pumpkin".) Happy Thanksgiving.

Intercollegiate Knights

The Golden Plume chapter of Intercollegiate Knights is one of BJC's service clubs.

This organization is limited to 30 men, all of whom must retain a scholastic average of C.

Selling courtesy cards for the Menmar theatres, selling programs at football games, building the annual Homecoming bonfire, sponsoring a float, and planning the IK formal dance, are some of the activities performed by the IK's, who meet once a week, on Tuesdays.

Officers of this year's group are Dick Ennis, duke; Jack Mihan, scribe; Ron Carpenter, executioner; George Ferney, chancellor of the exchequer, and Louie Eddy, worthy recorder.

An informal initiation is held each year in the fall, when new members are taken into the organization.

Dorm News

Morrison hall residents attended a social at Driscoll hall Thursday evening. The students danced and listened to the game.

Girls from Morrison hall who went to Pasadena included Vivian Adamson, Judy Richmond, Shirley Patrick, Debbie Lyman, Barbara Rae, and Alma Averill.

Club News

Future Teachers of America
Officers for Future Teachers of America for this year have been announced. They are Barbara Rea, president; Larry Breeze, treasurer, and Janice Stills, librarian. A vice-president will be elected at the group's next meeting.

Canterbury Club
Canterbury club members recently met at the Bishop Tuttle House to see a film and hear a lecture on heart disease. Doctor Burkholder gave the lecture. Sunday evening the group met at Tony Park's house to hear a discussion on "Mormonism". This was the first in a series of lectures the club will hear on different religions.

College Business Group
A film, "Realm of the Wild", was shown to members of the College Business Group at the First Christian church Sunday evening. Mr. Lynn Knight showed the film.

Westminster Club
At their last meeting, members of the Westminster club congratulated Nancy Wanlace for the float that she designed for the homecoming parade. They also distributed suggestion sheets, asking the members' opinion on what projects and social functions they would like to sponsor.

Seven sophomore girls will be initiated tonight into the Valkyries. The initiation will take place following a pot-luck dinner at Shirley Byrne's home. Those to be initiated are Billie Wilson, Marga Lindeman, Allene Siebe, Nancy Poe, Carol Stauth, Sharon Morrow and Carol Culver.

Pi Sigma Sigma

In 1949, only one male service club existed on the BJC campus. Since membership in this club was rather exclusive and limited to 30 members, a group of boys formed a second organization, Pi Sigma Sigma, standing for pep, spirit and service.

The Pi Sigs are not to be confused with a fraternity. They form one of the school's four service clubs.

Membership in Pi Sigma Sigma is limited to 30 members. Requirements for membership are a C average, minimum school load of 12 credit hours, and full time attendance during previous semester. Pledges must be sponsored by a regular member of the club. Initiation follows a nine-week "pledge period".

Activities during the year include parking cars at all home football games, sponsoring the formal "Presidents' Ball", sponsoring a Homecoming float, participating in intramural sports, taking on special projects and having occasional parties.

This year's officers are: Pat Gibson, president; Jerry Medsker, vice-president; Ellis Hyde, secretary; Dee Tanning, treasurer, and Rex Dorman, sergeant-at-arms.

Girls Sports

Mrs. Jean Boyles, girl's physical education instructor, left Thursday evening for Twin Falls where she will attend the week-end convention of the American Association of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation. The group will discuss the current problems of health, physical education and recreation.

The fencing classes are beginning bouts in which the members of individual classes take part. Beginning second semester the classes will challenge one another.

Tuesday, the swimming classes saw the film, Swimming Fundamentals, in which swimming experts demonstrated the various strokes that the classes will experience.

Broncs Fight Until End of Game

Fighting down to the very last second of the game, the Broncos of Coach Lyle Smith bowed to the Pasadena Bulldogs 6-0 before some 10,000 fans. Were there any doubts in the minds of Pasadena fans that the Broncs couldn't play ball they were rudely jolted when, for the entire second half, the Broncs marched deep into Bulldog territory with Ed Lodge passing the ball. Bulldog fans were able to breathe only when Lodge's long pass with one second of play left was intercepted.

It was Joe Delgado's sweep around his own right end early in the second period that was the big blow to the Bronco hopes. It was a fourth down play with four yards to go and Delgado was just barely able to put the ball across the goal line, and for a few moments the two umpires had to talk it over before deciding that it was a score. The conversion kick was blocked by Bryant Lemon and it was that play that gave the Broncs hopes of winning the game.

Perhaps the game was really decided early in the first period when both Bill Butler and Wally Brown were removed from the game due to knee injuries. The loss of Butler and Brown was a severe blow to the Broncs since both have been key blockers for the Bronco offense and there is little doubt in the minds of most Bronco rooters that with Butler and Brown in the game the Broncos would have scored at least one touchdown.

After their touchdown Pasadena never put on a serious march and they managed only to get to the Boise 22-yard line before Ron Campbell intercepted a Bulldog pass.

Thus Coach Lyle Smith's grid-ders ended their season with a 6-0 loss, but every student of BJC may be proud of them for even in defeat they were great.

Dean Mathews on TV

Dean Conan Mathews will appear Saturday night on "Education's Report Card", a weekly program on KIDO TV.

HOMECOMING HIGHLIGHTS—The big dance held on the Boise Junior College campus was one of the best ever and among the many attending were Don Archer and Karen Kreisenbeck, Audrey Aguirre and Ed Grotz, Nancy Kohls and Don Javona. First prize for the best float went to the Pi Sigma Sigma for their "Try Bacon" float. Second prize was won by Westminster club and third prize went to the Valkyries.

Thanksgiving 1953

Thursday of this week students of Boise Junior College will celebrate one of this nation's oldest holidays—Thanksgiving. To many of the students this will be just a holiday from school and a day of feast with the family and maybe that favorite girl or boy friend of yours.

How lucky we in the United States are that Thanksgiving is such a day and that we are able to associate the good things of life with this day. However, there are in Boise Junior College many students who served in the Korean war and to these students Thanksgiving is more than just another holiday. It is truly a day for meditation of just how much we have to be thankful for.

We, the staff of the Roundup, wish the very best Thanksgiving ever to the students of Boise Junior College and sincerely hope that they will count the many blessings they have in this great land.

Valgyries to Sponsor Thanksgiving Basket

Valkyries are planning to sponsor a Thanksgiving basket this year. A booth will be set up in the main hall, and all students are asked to donate canned foods. The Salvation Army will be contacted, and two needy families will be chosen to receive a basket. The collection booth will be set up in the hall today, Tuesday and Wednesday. Everyone is urged to give so that a needy family will have a Thanksgiving dinner.

Fifer Debate

Semi-finalists in the Bob Fifer debate contest who traveled to Pullman, Washington, Friday, were Kenneth Moore, Lora Cleary, Ray Fowler, Arnold Brauff, Lee Rodman and Harold Wennstrom, coach.

The contest at Pullman was the first intercollegiate debate tourney of the season.

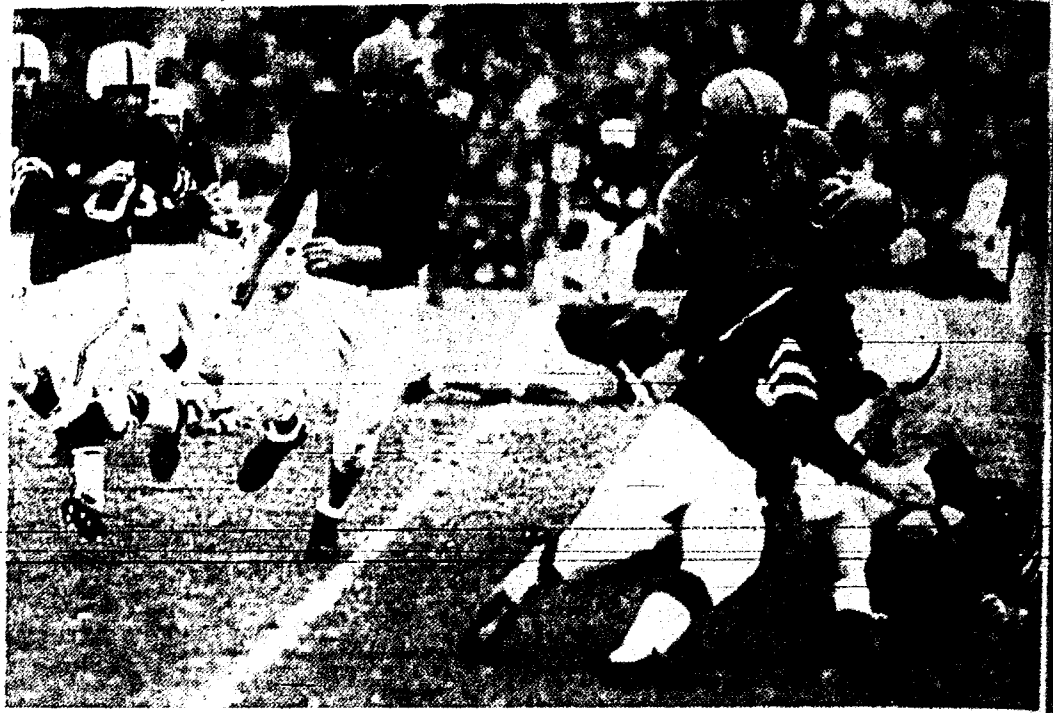

The final round of the Bob Fifer contest will take place tomorrow at 12:30 in T-1. Finalists are Lora Cleary and Roberta Wilson, and Lee Rodman and Ken Moore.

Judging the contest are Mrs. Rose, Mr. Schwartz, Miss Moore, Mrs. Burke, Mrs. Hatch, Dr. De Neufville, Dr. Baker, Mr. Hansen, Dr. Moore and Mr. Underkofler.

of the speakers. Dr. Baker urged all students and faculty members to attend. He also said that a special invitation was extended to all foreign students and to members of the International Relations club. Refreshments will be served.

Fireside To Be Held Tonight

A fireside will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock at Morrison hall. It is being sponsored by the Inter-Faith Council. Exchange students will speak at this meeting. Cocos Koutras, Boise High school student body president, will be one GANG WAY!!! Fullback Fred Miklanec bulls his way over and through a Bacone player for 8 yards. Quarterback Merle Eden comes up to block for Fred.

Player of the Week Broncs Trample Bacone 36-14

Early in the first period of the Bronco-Bacone football game a Bronco player with a number 67 on his back broke through the Bacone line and forced Sonny White, the Warrior quarterback, to toss the ball into the hands of Fred Miklanec who ran 20 yards to score a demoralizing touchdown that may have broken the back of Bacone's resistance. For his outstanding play against Bacone and the other Bronco opponents we nominate Lyle Buhler as our player of the week.

Weighing only 150 pounds and playing against players that weigh as much as 100 pounds more, Lyle, in game after game, has been consistent in his pass from center to the Bronco backfield. Getting that pass from center is probably the hardest job on the whole team. Not only does Lyle manage to get that ball to the proper spot but he also manages to block out the player across from him. On defense Buhler also is a rugged boy. It was his clutch interception that permitted the Broncos to beat Olympic JC 6-0.

Lyle has one more year of football at BJC and we sincerely hope that it will be just as fine a year as it has been this year.

The "eye leader" backfield and "paper doll" line of Coach Lyle Smith produced a 36-14 victory over Bacone Warriors before some 8,500 Homecoming fans at Bronco Stadium.

Playing offensive and defensive ball the likes of which they never played before, the Big Orange scored three swift touchdowns in the first period for an 18-0 lead and then scored another in the second period to put the Broncos out in front with a 24-0 lead. It was only after the initial rest of the Broncos had burned itself out that the Warriors were able to score their first TD, and in the third period Bacone scored to draw within 10 points of the Broncs. Then the Broncs went back to work and it was all over for Bacone.

It was a brilliant fourth down run by Bryant Lemon that started the TD spree. With fourth down and a yard to go on the Bacone 27 the Warriors tossed a tight seven man line at the Broncs, however, the Broncs faked a buck over guard and Lemon hit around left end. One Bacone player had a shot on the 30 but Lemon gave him a hip, sprinted down the west sideline, picked up a couple of blocks and the last Bacone man tried for him at the 15 and missed. The conversion was missed and the score was 6-0. Bacone, finding the Broncs too tough to run against, went to the air to pass, however, Lyle Buhler grabbed the passer and forced him to toss the ball away and Fred Miklanec intercepted, and with a key block from Butler ran 20 yards for the second TD.

With the first period just about over Ed Lodge hit end Bruce Brenn with a short pass and with key blocks by Merle Eden and Dick Joslyn went 34 yards to score.

In the second period the Broncs and Warriors traded touchdowns. Lodge again hit Brenn with a pass for a touchdown following a Bacone fumble. With just a few moments left in the half White Bacone QB, hit his end for a TD from the Bronco 12-yard line.

In the third period Bacone scored on a pass from White and the score went 24-10 and it looked as if the Warriors might pull it out of the fire. Then Bruce Brenn blocked a punt and the Broncs recovered on the Bacone 30 and a few plays later Fred Miklanec hit center from the one-yard line to score.

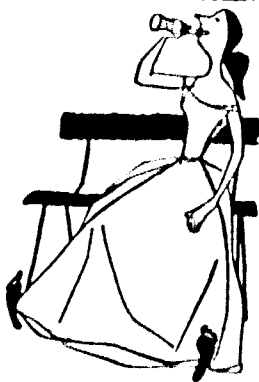

Bryant Lemon ended the game as he started it, by scoring the last Bronco touchdown.
