Woman Officers' Training Course

To college girls—graduates and undergraduates—future leaders are presenting a fine opportunity these days for service as woman officers. Applications are now being accepted for the woman officer positions

CONTESTANTS

The training course consists of one $2,000 scholarship for graduate, and two six-week sessions for undergraduates, who are not commissioned until they receive their degrees. Candidates must be under 25, of excellent health, must fulfill untimed commission only, and must either build a degree or be in good scores in one of the following fields: music, art, history, psychology, English, literature. At any time during the training course a candidate may be relieved on grounds of ill health.

After acceptance a commission in the Marine Corps, the candidate will serve two years on active duty, then may be retained in the reserve under the National Guard Act or discharged on application for admission to the regular establishment.

The marine corps needs women officers! girls who have a high degree of intelligence and who have the ability to meet the requirements of our service. The woman officer will enjoy the same privileges as the man officer and will serve in all capacity of the same in the United States Marine Corps.

Imagine the pride, the sense of accomplishment, that will sweep over the winner. From now on she will be pointed out by admiring fans who will exclaim, "Gosh, Isn't she the homeliest girl you ever saw?" From now on she will be the practicing powder, homely eye-brow pencils and homely cream. From now on she will be the center of attention of her building a popular brand of candy and saying, "Only honeycompliments my homely features."

Wanna Think?

Here's something to think about... Have you ever been in the student affairs office and noticed the IUC staff? How many students attending this institution have ever met the IUC staff? How many beautiful trophies commemorating our college's deeds, past and present, adorn our halls, yet each one deserving of a restful place where it can be seen and admired by ourselves and the future IUC students. Such a place would be relatively simple to build or buy with the many activities organized under the old IUC... and possibly cooperating toward the project.

Get any ideas, guys? Let's hear em.

Meet Your Teacher

Who is the Spanish teacher whom we all know to be a friendly, helpful, genial and kind soul and a word of encouragement to start us on our way through life?

Mrs. Camille C. Pomer has been the IUC Spanish teacher for many years, and has been the IUC Spanish teacher for some three times.

The first time from 1934 to 1935 in the building which was formerly the old girls school at St. Margaret's.

The second time was in 1939 when she was head of the Spanish department.

In the early days of IUC she was the dean of women and director of the I-Cubes, the Vaillants and the Coral, and she made her residence in Portland, Oregon, where she worked as a secretary of an import office. Because of her knowledge of French, she was valuable to them and she corresponded with French customers.

Mrs. Kramer's start as a teacher has been broken only by her studies for master's degree at the University of Illinois where she majored in French, and from 1930 to 1936 she taught French at Urbana high school in Illinois.

She started her education as a music major and changed to French and Spanish. She studied Spanish at the University of Mexico in Mexico City, the University of Chicago, and the University of Washington, and for a year in France she worked on the side for Mrs. Kramer has perfected her Spanish with Mexico and one in Guatemala.

Mrs. Kramer's travels have taken her to England, France, Switzerland, Germany and many other places. She was particularly interested in the Spanish way, which is presented every ten years at the village of Samaná Marcos. This was in 1930.

As for the future Mrs. Kramer is content to continue her work as a teacher in the pleasant surroundings which all teachers and students feel are.

After going over the latest batch of scores from the Northwest it looks like a few Northwest sports writers are going to eat their own words if the present trend continues. Last week Clark and Portland State were all but crowned champs, but this week...

Portland's Vikings are still in the lead but it looks like things were all but turned into a tagalong as they lead twice in the final shuffling, Vancouver Community College Orcas Tech 54-35 win over Eastern Oregon prevented the conference's lead from being thrown into a two-way tie. Clark may still win the WJC championship but the Vikings will not despite a clear need as they have one last chance to capture the conference crown.

NCC To Play Host To Wash. Schools

Next week, they will get their shot at the Oregon Schools four instead of the three which they were supposed to play in.

Many have seen the outside, but for the unfortunate ones who have not to view the Inside, here is how RWC's new athletic plant looks like under the red roof.

"I have had a lot of different jobs, and I don't have a college education yet."

While the football season was spent in the conference's fields, the basketball season was spent on the court. The following conference schedule will be held at Portland State's field.

The game will be held on February 16th. The team that wins will go on to play Washburn in the conf.

Throughout the year, the University of Idaho has been on the lookout for a way to improve the quality of its athletes. The new conference schedule will help to bring in more players from the region.
