IN OUR OPINION

Spring, the time of year when the young and old alike feel a spell of fresh blood in their veins and acquire an attitude of vivid abandon, is nearly upon us again. The first few hints of our approach have been lethargically scattered about the campus by us the students. Perhaps without realizing it, we become,...

Since it is almost April, the dust that has settled on the grass is ready to be blown away in a gust of wind, and the minute hands of the clock are set to indicate the passage of time. The campus is in top shape. Hang on to your garden hose and wear your old paper cap...

In our opinion, the campus does not...
The Engineers club, dedicated to furthering interests in the engineering field, is a campus organization formed in 1953. Present of the club are Howard B. Rieff, president; Tom Collins, vice-president; Al Peterson, secretary-treasurer; Dave Grinnell, program chairman; and Steve Allbritton, publicity chairman. A student membership is open to all students, and interested students are invited to attend.

In recent meetings, the club has held several meetings in the Student Union. These meetings have included talks on various subjects and discussions on the subject of interest to the members. All interested students are invited to attend.

Dr. John L. Phillips, president of the club, has arranged for a field trip to Boulder dam, a large project on the Snake river under the direction of the Bureau of Reclamation.

The Faculty club held a farewell banquet for the club's members last night. The banquet was held in the Student Union. The club's entertainment was provided by the local rock and roll group, the faculty band. The band played several popular songs and had a good time.

Mr. Jones, the new faculty member, was introduced by Mr. Smith, the head of the faculty club. Mr. Smith spoke about the benefits of having a new faculty member on campus and the importance of welcoming him into the community.

The faculty club plans to continue its activities in the future, and members are encouraged to attend upcoming meetings and events.

Boise Junior College-Arkansas, Kansas Clash Tonight In National JC Tournament at Hutchinson

The Boise Junior college Bronco, making their third successive appearance in national Junior college tournament action, will clash tonight with Arkansas City JC at Hutchinson, Kansas.

The Bronco number three team in the nation will take a 17.5 record into their first round game against the 18-1 Kansas state-ranked Arkansas 22-4 state. The game, the fifth in today's pairings, is scheduled to get underway at 7:30 CST.

Coach George Blankley and 10 players left last Saturday morning by train for Salina, Kansas. The Bronco arrived in Salina Sunday evening and departed for Hutchinson on an early train Monday afternoon. The Bronco team held a short workout in the tournament gym. Probable starters for BMJC tonight are: Jim Bald, Bob Haas, Dorothy Hogsett, and Jan Ellis.

Pocatello Crushes Kellogg 81-59 To Win State Prep II

Last Tuesday night the Pocatello High School basketball team took a third place win in the Idaho State Prep II Championship. The Pocatello Beavers defeated the St. Anthony Blue Devils 81 to 59 to claim their third Prep II Championship in four years.

BCI Ranked Third In Final JC Poll

The Boise Junior College Beavers were again ranked third in the National Junior College Basketball poll for the second straight week. The poll was announced Friday by the National Junior College Athletic Association and the Newspaper Enterprise Association.

Hogen 'Horse Tracks'

As the saying goes, "the third time is a charm." Maybe the third time will be a charm for Coach George Blankley and his Bronco basketball team when they begin play tonight at the NCAA tournament in Hutchinson, Kansas.

BCJC will have a tough one to do. If the Bronco get by their first opponent, they will face the winner of the St. Anthony-Dalhart, Texas contest. With a 17-12 record and the nation's number one JC Center in Kelly Chapman, Chapman has averaged 27 points per game in 37 contests.

Also in the BJC bracket is Skinner-Pleasant Grove, ranked number seven, with a 27-14 season record. The team will play the third top strategist in the nation with an 18-9 average per outing.

Juniors Edward Bland and Bob Haas are the key players for the Bronco.

Although Idaho high school basketball has been strong in the high school basketball tournament, by Friday, the state is ranked seventh in the nation and is the best in the state to finish one of the three teams to advance pledged early this season.

This game is probably the best of the season. A 1-0 record and an average of 14.3 points per game is the highest ratio of any team in the state. The state's leading scorer in the tournament, the senior will be able to earn the state's leading scorer title by scoring 36 points per game.

The Bronco, one of three top defensive teams in the state, has averaged limited opposition 36 points per game.

Hogesten, Manitoba, schoolmen over the Boise last year, in the top seeded quintet in the 10 team national tournament one-NACJC ranked.
