Work On Le Bois Running Smoothly

Progress on the "Le Bois" running smoothly so far, according to Ani Scott, editor of the school paper. She said that they have completed the students section and that half of the pictures were already taken.

The key to a successful "Le Bois" is Jan Obersmeyer. She will take over the编辑 section next year and is expected to do well in charge of the administration section.

This year a different section editor will be added to the staff. All members of the staff will work on the student section and take notes on what they are doing. The results of the work will be put in the annual.

This is a very busy time for the staff as they have a deadline to meet the 20th of April. By the middle of May the annuals will be completed and in circulation.

TIM’S CAMPUSS COMMENTS

The spirit of exam week is finally reaching the student body of UBC. The midnight sessions have started, and the student population has been adopted, and the feeling of utter exhaustion has set in. Much of this energy can be attributed to a little easier with some planning. Many students have not been able to earn, but very often end in full sessions. If you keep this thought in mind, you will have a great time studying.

When you think of a good place to study for all this, you will be surprised to know that once the group concentration is lost, it is difficult to get back to it.

The second greatest hazard in exam cramming is a long time. At 2:30 in the morning, it is hard to judge how much time has been wasted. When you are working on your books, do you really stop and think about what you are doing? You might save yourself some time by keeping a schedule of the work you have to do. By making a schedule, you can complete all the work you will be doing in a given period of time. This will help you to focus on the important work and to leave the less important work for later.

This is the time to plan your study schedule. By making a timetable, you can be sure that you are using your time efficiently. You can also make sure that you are taking breaks and that you are drinking plenty of water.

The most important thing to remember is to take care of yourself. You need to eat well, get enough sleep, and exercise regularly.

IN OUR OPINION

Each year the National Elks Foundation and its many local organizations sponsor leadership and scholarship contests throughout the country. We, the students of BJC, have the privilege of entering these contests through the local Elks organization. It is a fine gesture on the part of the Elks to make these contests possible. We urge that a large number of the students capitalize on this opportunity to win a cash award ranging from $25 for the local contest winner to $1,000 for the national winner. If a large number of contestants enter from BJC, we will demonstrate our cooperation in making these contests successful. Any student interested may obtain application forms in the student affairs office. All entries in the youth leadership contest must be in by February 1, likewise all scholarship contest entries must be in by February 15.

Most of us have heard over the radio or have read in the newspaper that polio can now be wiped out as have other deadly diseases of the past. However, there is one catch which will limit the cooperation of everyone to do it. Ample supplies of the Salk vaccine are on hand to be administered to every age level. The small pain caused by the shot is in no way increased compared to the annual flu shots. BJC students are fortunate in having the chance to receive shots earnestly, but complete protection. Those who have not as yet started taking shots are urged to do so without delay. The amount of vaccine being used is minute compared to the "miracle" caused by the disease. Thus many students are fortunate in having the chance to receive the polio vaccine. We, the students of BJC, have the privilege of entering domestic service. Some of us.

Before last Wednesday evening we were all set to welcome the students who live in the dorms about eating at the cafeteria on Thursday. As usual, everything came to an abrupt end but we imagine that a couple of students will wind up eating at the cafeteria. However, last Wednesday evening we were pleasantly surprised to find that there was a good representation of students from both dorms. Congratulations to you kids, especially the fellows, and keep it up.

Suggestions—The UBC students could get there a little earlier and mix in with the inhabitants from Morrison—e.

BOWL!

TOPS IN FUN FOR ONE AND ALL

Everybody likes to bowl...and why not? You don't get skilful, roly-poly, roll-a-ball-skip-a-little, silly as ours. Bring your date, family or team anyway.

BRONCO SKI CLUB

The Bronco Ski Club met January 11 and elected the following officers: President, Raymond Wilson; secretary-treasurer, Marilyn Green and radio chairman, Dale Blackwell. Faculty advisor for the club is Dr. O'Con.

Everyone who ski at BIC is automatically a member of the ski club. The first of the season started the 11th of January. They are given every Friday at 7:00 p.m. and this hour of instruction will be given by certified PHIRA instructors. Students will receive their P.E. credit for these lessons.

There will be an meeting February 23 in the lecture hall in the science building. A film will be given on "The Techniques of Skiing".

Formulating with the Ski club is the Bronco ski team. This team is open to skiers who are better than average and are interested in racing.

Social Patterns Class

The Social Patterns class attended a buffet dinner January 16 from 6:00 to 9:00 p.m., which was given by the Chapin catering service in the home economics department. Dr. William Chapin gave a very interesting lecture on "Art of Hospitality" and on the art of eating correctly.

This course undertakes to give the student an insight into the reasons for some of the current social customs. It also aims to give the students some self-knowledge and insight into the knowledge and practice of the courtesies of his own country.
