Joretta Moeller Takes Top Honors In School-Wide Election For the Best Dressed Woman Student On Campus

Members of Faculty Visit H. S. Seniors

Members of the BJC faculty are presently involved in visiting high school seniors of the area. It is necessary that our school has a better education. This is an annual project and is one of the activities included in the work of the faculty and the administration. It is hoped that this will help educate pupils in the importance of a better education. In the future, the faculty will be doing more of this work.

Spring, the time of year when the young and old alike feel a surge of fresh blood in their veins and acquire an attitude of reckless abandon, is a period during which the plans of our college"s activities have been literally scattered about the campus by we the students. Perhaps without realizing it, we become over-ambitious, thrusting ourselves, and other innocent objects, through windows because we underestimate our strength, or scattering an assortment of confetti-covered wrappers along the sidewalls as we seemingly Oriented way.

Since it is almost spring, we don't want to get involved in a lengthy lecture about keeping the lawn free of trash. However, it is worth mentioning that there has been an increase in paper scraps on the lawn lately. With all of the time we can keep the campus on top shape. Hang on to your wrappers instead of using a waste paper container. It is a cooperation in expense of waste paper. The job of keeping the campus clean will be made much easier.

Last fall the Roundup staff attempted to organize a small combo to play for a week's jam session series. However, because of a lack of musicians, we were unable to get the series going.

With the organization of the blowout led by Sal DeVinna, tentation plans are again underway for a series of jam sessions. I believe arrangements have been made, but the sessions probably would be held one afternoon a week from 4:00 to 5:00 p.m. There would be a small charge for admission.

When plans were being made for jam sessions earlier in the year, it was planned to have more enjoyment out of having a program of both jazz and dance music. If dance music is included in the program, the audience will be able to take a part of the jam session without being bored.

The support of the student body will be necessary if it is to be a success. When one attends in order to attend, it is suggested that contact be made with the Roundup staff. Mr. Bill Ross and myself are interested in this weekly activity.

A number of colleges in the northwestern area have had such a large number of students coming down with the flu recently that it has caused a number of cancellations. This has resulted in a number of students who will be at home, and it is expected that a number of those will be able to attend. There is a chance that this will continue for the rest of the semester. B.J.C. WILL OBSERVE 25TH ANNIVERSARY DURING MAY 12-18

According to Dr. J. B. Spil athletic events are being held for a special observance of BJC's 25th anniversary this spring. A planning committee include Ed Di Branco, Eugene C. Chaffee, Dr. James A. Hunter, James Gentry, Dr. Edward Jackson and John Daniel. The dates of May 12 to 18 have been set aside as BJC Junior week of events with speakers from various organizations who will discuss the various aspects of the clubs' activities and organizations. Also the old jazz music of a several groups of students will be played.

Last year on the first of May, Charles became the first student to have a year as a student at BJC. At the present time the club has been under way for a year and a half. The old club has been under way for a year and a half.

Teacher of the Week
Recently Organized Dance Band Makes Debut At Regional Basketball Playoffs

Characterized by a light house, run out at a fast clip, a new type, surprise of the week, and a similarity approach to the world in general is for John L. Phillips, Cornell University, psychology prodigy and director of student personnel services.

Originally from Portland, Ore., John Phillips attended high school in Milwaukie, Oregon, where he played in the basketball team, participated in school plays, and contributed to the extension in his high school band and orchestra with his trumpet playing.

His selection of band music in Portland, where he entered psychology, was called to a temporary halt after his senior in high school, who was lucky enough to be sent to the extension mechanics school and was not invited among.

In 1944, the war was on, and he settled down to life as a married man and turned to Portland and the obtained his B.A. and M.A. degrees from the university, where he taught the seventh grade in the city school.

In 1950, he obtained his Ph.D. from the University of Illinois in 1938, he started in Cornell for one year before coming to Cornell in 1954. He has been an advisor to the University for the same coming to the faculty and says he enjoys working with the group.

This term, Tieg and Jeff, 11-year-old, have performed in the finishing of our school dance and of course hold a big spot in his heart.

Complaining that he has too little time for everything, Phillips says that he still enjoys his trumpet and that in freedom and really has found himself a place among his list of interests and hobbies.

Determinedly busy, he attended the natural acquisition of the band, which is held every week on Wednesday, and says he enjoys working with the group.

Library Announces Addition of Books

By RICHARD MORTON

The books are now featured on the library bulletin board which is announced by Jan Hoss.

Among them, Echoes of Greece by Hamilton Wright, a listing of ancient figures of Plato, Ptolemy, and Alexander, the Great, and also a mention of our present-day world.

From the world of Ancient Greece is A Space Traveler's Guide to the Greek World by E. L. Webbs. An intriguing, informative book presenting actual hypothesis and speculation about flight to Mars based on scientific fact, it contains many interesting illustrations.

Another in the same category is a brief, direct discussion of the problems of space travel entitled Earth Satellites. This book by Pat- rick Magee discusses the satellite program as a problem in engineering and physics and as a means to study man's outer environment. Among new books on other topics is Miracle in the Mountains by Harriet K. Cune. A moving biography of Martha Berry, beginning the crusade for the mountain people of the south. It is well worth your

As the saying goes "the third time is a charm." Maybe the third time will be a charm for Coach George Blankenship's coarses when they begin play tonight in the NCAA national tournament at Hutchinson, Kansas.

Boise State will have a tough row to hoe. If the Broncs get by tonight for they will face the winner of the Des Moines-Tyler, Texas game. Fourth seeded Oklahoma State, led by future Coach Chuck Broock who scored 20 points for game honors, Rick Parker, sophomore star of Kellogg entered 21 to pace the Wildcats offense.

Three of Idaho's colleges included in the NCAA national tournament, all of whom have made the NCAA football poll behind them.

Pocatello's Indians put a glaring finish on their hoop season by routing all Mt. Home, Burley and Jerome during the tournament run to their sturdy string of 27-3. The Broncs were able to underdog in football games.

Hustler on the lusten pair was former Coach Broock who scored 27 points for game honors. Rick Parker, sophomore star of Kellogg entered 21 to pace the Wildcats offense.
