Peace Conference Plans Introduced By Council

The annual Peace Conference will be held in March, at the St. Louis Hotel. Each year, a representative from the faculty and student body are sent to this conference. The Peace Conference selects committee members from Larry Carlson, John Powell, Naka, Fourchon, and Eric Har. Chairman The Student representative was Hall, who said that the representative within the next few weeks.

Senior Nurses Train At Mental Hospital

Miss Florence Meehan, instructor-in-charge, reported that the senior nursing students returned safely from the State Hospital South at Blackfoot where they received three months' training.

She said they received instruction on how to understand different mental behavior patterns, offer various forms of treatment, and on transplanting therapy.

Sharon Newman, a senior student in nursing, said that one of the most serious things is that the patients in the mental hospital appear to be no different than those in a normal hospital.

Miss Meehan said that half of the senior students have reported to the tuberculosis hospital at Gooding for training in that field. The other half remained here for operating room experience at St. Luke's hospital.

Second Semester Scholarships Now Available; Applications May Be Made To Committee

Student scholarships for the second semester are now available, and written applications are presently being accepted and considered by the Student Aid, Loan and Scholarship Committee, it was announced this week by Mr. G. W. Underkoffer.

The student scholarship committee is as follows:

Robert Carlson To Speak To Students and Faculty

Mr. Robert A. Carlson, American Friends Service Committee representative, will visit Boise Junior College, Thursday, Jan. 30, to discuss the opportunities offered by the youth service projects.

Mr. Carlson will speak to all interested students and faculty members during the break from 9:30 to 9:45 a.m., in room 110 of the Administration building.

Appointments to confer with Mr. Carlson may be made by contacting Mr. DeNeufville.

Mr. Carlson explained that the youth service projects enable students, to serve and learn while testing the practicality of their academic learning. Other opportunities of the students, include helping in work camps both here and overseas, serving the mentally ill and retarded, educational activities in small and large communities, and work during the summer or vacation periods.

Hannallah, in a statement, said that the committee is working to help not only the students but for all scholarship recipients.

Nearly $1,175 was awarded in the spring. Funds for student scholarships are received from V.F.W., from civil organizations, and from the council and the parents.

More outside people have become interested in helping students. Mr. Underkoffer said, "and scholarships for students have tripled in the last three years."

Television Writer Presents Lecture On "The Monster In Your Living Room"

Robert Shaw, author of two of television's leading dramatic programs, "Robert Montgomery Presents" and "The Night Keyhouse," will speak on "Coaxing the Monster," which he termed "the art of relating a good story in which he attained marvelous success, when he appeared at Boise Junior College, Monday, Jan. 23, during the break at 8:30 a.m. in the administration building.

In his lecture on modern television, entitled "The Monster in Your Living Room," Shaw revealed many of the gripping imports which this new form of entertainment has had on life in America.

Bob Shaw first attained fame and success in a radio of radio's all-time popular shows, "Mr. District Attorney," "The Shadow," and "The Adventures of Christopher Wills." His talents were rapidly absorbed by television as it grew into the nation's favorite medium of entertainment.

Mr. Shaw is now considered as one of the country's leading TV writers.

He made clear, however, that he feels the responsibilities of being a guest several times a week in 50,000 or more homes, the estimated size of his com-terrestrial audiences, "when he produce or write for the switching and tiring job of "try to follow the dictates of our audience. Yet, I find it almost impossible that can and should be made in our programs."

For example, he continued, "today's youth is a captive audience, the only audience that can and should be made in our programs.

Robert Shaw than to parents, teachers and church leaders combined."

Many of the present offerings prevent alarming problems with many programs of doubtful worth. There are also, Shaw revealed, a number of influences and pressures that one must face to hang on the medium's artists.

College registers, Mrs. Elson Goddard, after the following practical suggestion:

Students enrolling for grades of B or above, check on their tentative graduation status, Quizzes should not be made at the register's office, because the required student records are in the possession of student advisors.

Elks Foundation Sets Contest Deadlines

February 1, 1958 has been set as the deadline for the Elks Youth Leadership Contest and also for the Elks' second annual competition for "Most Valuable Student" scholarships.

In each of the contests, the boys and girls will be judged separately. There will be four awards.

The first prize will be $50.00, the second prize will be $25.00, and the third prize will be $10.00.

Each of the four first-place winners will be entered in the state contest, the state prizes, in the scholarship contest, range from $500.00 for first place, down to $100.00 for third place.

The state first-place award in the leadership contest is $225.00; second place is $150.00, third place is $100.00. State winners will be entered in the national contest, where prizes range up to $1,200.00.

For further information, and to apply for scholarships, any student may see Mr. Loren Basler, business manager, or Mr. G. W. Underkoffer, chairman of scholarship committee at BJC.

We have no considerable interest in three contests has been centered. Students of the United States of America, won by BJC authorities to secure forms and enter the scholarship contests. The same scholarships reported to win the national first-place winners include Mrs. Shirley Johnson, in 1955, who won the $150.00 first prize in state competition, and Mrs. Anna Hambel, in 1957, who won $15 second prize in the local contest.
President Chaffee Gives Comment on Student Scholarships and Loans

With the end of the fall semester rapidly approaching, most students are giving serious consideration to adequate finances to continue classes during the winter. As students hear about the difficulties between being able to continue in college or not, may not be recognizing the scholarship assistance. Boise Junior College does not have extensive scholarship funds compared with some of the highly endowed private schools and tax-supported state institutions, but the college does award, at the beginning of each semester a number of grants to worthy students, and will have a few for the second semester. Printed on the front page of this issue of the Roundup are suggestions which should prove helpful for students who wish to apply for scholarships.

BJC scholarship funds are provided by grants from various civic and community organizations, as well as student groups on campus. Ordinarily, the selection of scholarship recipients is made in the faculty committee on student aid, assisted by Mr. W. H. Underkoffler, chairman, who has the final selection made directly to the group providing the money. Scholarships usually cover tuition only. The following criteria are used by the committee in selecting recipients:

- Academic achievement.
- Extent of self-sufficiency.

All of these criteria will be reviewed by the committee at the Winter Session. Students desiring scholarships must apply in writing to the committee. Needless to say, English usage and completeness of the letter will be important. Students in need of aid are urged to apply immediately. The committee will consider applications on a merit basis, and no student will be awarded a scholarship unless his writing demonstrates his ability and interest in attending Boise Junior College. The student must be a resident of Idaho. No applications will be accepted from students who are not residents of the state of Idaho.

Mr. Baker Advises BJC Job Seekers

Mr. J. H. Bakers, dean of Boise Junior College, reports that the job-seeking students, at the present time, are very scarce. He advises students who are capable of securing work to take it promptly and knock on the doors of employment offices.

The French Club will hold its annual Christmas party, which will be held in the Joslin hall, on Friday, November 15th, at 9:00 p.m. J. W. Moore, vice-president of the French Club, reports that the party is well attended and was a great success. The French Club has been active in the past year, and the students have enjoyed participating in the club's activities. The French Club plans to continue its activities in the future.

Mr. Baker advises students to apply for scholarships early, as the college has limited funds and is unable to meet the needs of all students. He reminds students that the application deadline is approaching and urges them to submit their applications soon. The college offers numerous scholarships to deserving students, and students are encouraged to apply.

Press Helps VA Cut Down on Mystery Mail

Thanks to the nation's press, "The Grey Seal" program, and the Veterans Administration offices have been slashed 29 percent. VA reports that only one in 26 letters not requiring some degree of research is related to the veterans' claim. Only a few months ago, the figure was one in 10.

The money and the nation's press and TV can be tied to the appointment of a results- oriented Professor in the field of veterans' claims. Only a year later, the system is fully in place.

J. S. Young, executive editor of the "The Grey Seal" program, said, "We have learned that there are many men who are not entitled to benefits, and we are making a concerted effort to get the facts and figures that will support the case."

Students from Iran, attending BJC, received a visit from Mr. Harry Bennett, New York. Mr. Bennett is a high school student, and he took advantage of his trip to bring attention to the plight of his countrymen in Iran. As a summary of the U. S. Department of State, BJC's Iranian students were able to offer Mr. Bennett a few bits of advice and a forecasting of what to expect when he reaches his home town. Left to right in the picture are: Mr. Nargial, Neshmadin Ali, Professor Asoe, and Mr. Bennett's son in a former star end for the Broncos.

Music Scholarships Made Available

The administration is proud to announce new music scholarships are now available to current students. These scholarships are aimed at promoting young talents and are available to students who excel in their chosen field of music. Students can apply for these scholarships through the Office of Student Affairs, and we encourage all students to consider applying.

Placement Directory Lists Summer Jobs

To answer the needs of teachers, science students and professors, the Administration and Placement Bureau announce publication of their 1988 World Wide Summer Placement Directory. The directory is prepared as an aid to the educators and students who are looking for a job, or need to train while they take a vacation. The new directory gives descriptions of the type of work available, salary ranges, names and addresses of employers, and necessary requirements. Included are governmental positions, state and federal jobs, private sector jobs, travel agencies, advertising agencies, and many others.

Boise Scored Wins In Conference Openers

Boise scored its first conference victory of the season on Friday night,) when it overcame the Weber State College's 48-45 victory over the B) shockers. Boise State trailed 21-15 at halftime during the game played) in Seattle, but came back in the second half to win by a 43-42 margin. ()

Boise's scoring was fueled by a strong outside shooting performance, with four players hitting three-pointers. The game was a physical one, with both teams playing a high-intensity defense. Boise's defense was able to hold Weber to just 39 points, while the Shockers shot 45% from the field. Boise's offense was led by往s 20-point performance, and the team's ability to make key shots down the stretch helped secure the win.

Boise faces its next conference game on Saturday, when it travels to play Idaho State. The Bobcats are currently at 4-5 in conference play, and will be looking to snap their two-game losing streak.
