B J C Alumnus Covers Trip In US Submarine Nautilus

A feeling of pride pervaded the BJC campus recently when word arrived that one of its former students, through his own ability and initiative, is in a position of nationwide prominence.

William F. Sunderland, BJC alumnus, now a feature news reporter for United Press International, was selected as the sole newspaper representative for a rare venture aboard the nuclear powered submarine Nautilus when it set an underwater, transatlantic speed record from London to New York City, following its spectacular trip under the North Pole.

Sunderland, who attended BJC in 1952-53, called his assignment a "reporter's dream trip." He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Sunderland, 1928 Nautilus. [Continued on page 4]

Idaho UP Manager Recalls Alumnus

By Sander R. Klein

Idaho Manager, RP International

A 10-year-old boy walked up in the United Press International lobby and asked for a job. He said he wanted to be a newspaperman more than anything else in the world. And, he added, he'd do anything to keep the offer from running out, bring coffee to the staff of any time. There was a reason.

He got the job. That was born in 1951.

A few weeks ago, that same boy returned to Boise for a vacation from London, England, where he holds the key news spot on the [Continued on page 4]

Enrollment Figure Totals Listed

The registrar's office has compiled the following enrollment figures for the fall sessions of day school, evening classes, and BJC's extension courses at Mountain Home Air Force Base. There are 1,174 day students, plus an attendance of 948 in the evening, extension and apprentice classes in both Boise and Mountain Home Air Force Base, a total of 3,171.

NC

There are seven Mountain Home Air Force Base courses: drawing and painting, introduction to business, business law, public speaking, elementary French, freshman math and general psychology. The courses are taught by qualified instructors, who are shown on the personnel list of the Mountain Home AFIP.

Your Advisor—Friend and Counselor

A new sense of freedom, beyond what your high school could offer you, is yours to enjoy in college. This freedom includes freedom in choosing your class schedule. You may select your own advisor at the end of the first six weeks, and choose the faculty whom you like best.

As long as you use this freedom for your growth and development, you will encounter little restraint from the college. It is your responsibility to make the most of this freedom that may be helpful to you in your academic endeavors. It is also helpful to plan your course during registration, and you may have both full and part-time jobs while in college.

You were advised at registration time to choose an academic guide, and stay fairly close to it, according to your information about your major course of study. You may have a separate advisor for each academic major in college. If you plan to major in three or four different fields, you will have a definite advisor for each major or major course of study.

Letters to Editor

Jackie

I would like to thank you for the help you and your staff have given me during the past week. I have been a constant reader of your newspaper, and I hope you will continue to publish it so that I can continue to enjoy it.

Linda

I would like to congratulate you on your recent publication. I have been a long-time reader of your newspaper, and I am happy to see you continue to publish it.

Need To Think Hard? Try Talking To Yourself

Some students find it helpful to talk to themselves as a way of thinking through problems. Others may find it easier to write down their thoughts in a journal. Whether you choose to talk to yourself or write things down, it is important to give yourself time to think about what you have learned and how you can apply it to your own life.

New Appointments Made By BJC Student Council

Betty Johnson has been appointed as class president, and the student council president for the 1967-1968 school year. She will work closely with the student council advisor, Mr. Robinson, to ensure that the council continues to provide leadership and extracurricular activities for the students.

Massachusetts-Born Dean of Women

Newly appointed dean of women, Ms. Carol Brown, is a native of Massachusetts. She brings a wealth of experience to her new position, having served as dean of women at several other universities. Ms. Brown is known for her strong leadership and commitment to student well-being.

CAMPUS QUERY

By Thomas Dooley

What is your favorite way to relax and enjoy the college lifestyle? I find that I enjoy spending time with my friends, participating in extracurricular activities, and taking advantage of the many resources available on campus.

BILL BERRY, New Student

As a new student, I am excited to be part of the college community. I am looking forward to meeting new people, participating in campus activities, and exploring all that the college has to offer.

Helen Johnson

Inter-Faith Council

We are pleased to announce that the Inter-Faith Council has been formed to promote understanding and cooperation among students of different faiths. We encourage all students to get involved and to contribute to the positive environment on campus.

Mr. Carr Sets Les Lois Picture Schedule

Student and faculty pictures for the Les Lois, BJC's yearbook, will be taken from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Monday, October 6 on the beach. The yearbook will have a new feature. A charge of $1.50 is being made for the picture, which includes the $1 set of Les Lois annual.

A number of pictures taken by Mr. Carr will be charged at additional from 10 cents to 50 cents. These pictures are for publication only.

Student data clothing for those students will be 60 cents to 75 cents in price. Campus clothes are suitable for the season.

The B-Cubes choose Year's Officers

The B-Cubes, freshman women's social club, held their annual election for officers Friday, September 20.

Among the officers elected were: Gard Hanson, president; Dee Ann Hayley, vice-president; and Susie Bonneau, secretary. The officers hold each Thursday noon in the student hall.

President Hanson, advisor, urged a larger number of girls to attend the B-Cubes first project, the homecoming float.

Addition of Books

Miss Beth McHenry, head librarian, announced that the library has added a new "borrowing section" this year.

The new section is stocked with books of all kinds, novels, biographies, travel, animal and nature, art and music, and history. Miss McHenry has announced that its use is limited.

In addition to the borrowing section is a section for books which are in the literary field.

The larger shelves of both sections are devoted to the literature of the world. Miss McHenry has announced that the books are of interest to the student body and to the general public.

Carollyn Ruptas Chosen By BJC Student Nurses

Carollyn Ruptas has been selected to represent the student nurses of the year by the student nurses association. She is a native of the state of Washington.

Other candidates competing for the honor are: Lucille Powers of the University of Washington; and Barbara H. Pfeiffer of the University of Washington.

Delegate at the convention will be selected from the students and qualifications at future nurses meetings. The one with the most qualifications will be selected "Student Nurse of the Year."

CAMPUS STYLES

By Sharon Paul

The other day I was down at the Student Center and a popular window of clothing opened right in front of my eyes. I went in and had a look at some of the things. I must say I was surprised. They were called "Propelled Skirts." By Campus Daily

I noted that the main features of these skirts is that they come in different lengths for tall and short, medium or tall. They are cold and warm. They look like a kipk kick in front and a neat back. Skirts are next line.

In the colors are red, periwinkle, anna, navy blue and three different shades of grey and brown.

A skirt like this is a "must" and cost $7.95 at C&A.

While I was browsing, something else caught my eye. It was a secretary called the "Bing Wing" which comes in periwinkle, daffodil yellow, berry red, robel blue and spice. It's the most college-looking "u.s.t." ever seen.

You can get it up on the second floor of the Student Center and a very cheap or classic leme style. It's $5.25 and 25 cents alternates will be from $2.50 to $3.75.

Believe me, if you ride the escalator up to the second floor of Anderson's you'll soon be doing more than just window shopping.
