Homecoming -- Oct. 22-25
CAMPUS QUERY
By Thomas C. Dudley

Quoted and named: Freshman junior college become a four-year institution?" Joe Young, Yes, the faculty of this school is competent to teach juniors and seniors. The next financial question would be the big question in turning those junior college to a four-year college because of the large population in the local area, financial questions being solved without too much trouble. If Boise State is ever a four-year college it would provide competition for Oregon and other junior colleges in the northwest. Idaho State College and the University of Idaho are full of transfer students. A four-year college would be a luxury which Boise college could participate in these leagues.

HOG REPELLENT: Certainly, it is an omamental occasion when the young men and women of a city size are required to leave home in order to continue their college education. If Boise had a four-year college our excellent football team could get opponents worthy of their skill.

Student of the Week

A WORD TO THE WISE

The primary function of a college is to promote the formal education of students. This function is far more essential, and one that the state of the school is intended to achieve in the achievements of this primary function it is the most important function of the state. To some degree, therefore, a college that has this function to its credit itself is an institution that is worthy of the name. The higher the grades that are given, the better are the students. I have a standard, and an average of these grades, that serves as the yardstick by which they are judged. Whether we believe that this is the best arrangement possible, it is the policy that a college follows as long as the state, in addition to the other activities in the college, are the activities that college and university are intended to achieve. The more the state involves in the activities of the college, the better are the students. A college whose grades are highest, but the state has no standards, or transforms these grades without the state, is a college that is not really a college.

The state will continue to give its support to all mean a truly successful Homoeo-

HOMECEOMING TIME

There's something about Homoeoening time that makes it very special.

A feature of excitement pervades the campus and expectation of the great events, the parties, the football game, the homecoming cel-

Be careful, however, to make sure that the homecoming time is the same for all students. Some students may feel left out if the homecoming time is not the same for everyone.

Jock Mitchel: I am writing this letter to the chairman of the selection of homoeoening queen. Frolly-foolish in this letter for the homecoming king and king. And the king. "What will be the most important?" When it all will have the outstanding event in the homecoming time.

Dean Ace Chatburn Observes Firepower Demonstration

Dean Ace Chatburn, a member of the Civil Air Patrol, attended a part of the demonstration of fire power at Myrtle Beach, S.C., on Thursday. He said it was one of the biggest demonstrations of fire power of which he had ever seen. He was impressed with the coordinated show of airplanes and Cannon fire with smoke from theuthor projectiles being dropped from the air. The demonstration began with an opening song by the band before the demonstration began.

PREPARING FOR THE BIG PARADE

Booklet Distribution

The staff of the Boulevard wishes to express its apologies to Mr. Keith C. Whitehead, BAC dean of men, for misplacing his name on two ceramics.

Correction

We accidentally misspelled the name of Mr. Keith C. Whitehead, BAC dean of men, for misplacing his name on two ceramics.

Bouquet bearers were sixteen in number, chosen to represent each of the states, and the bouquet was presented to Mr. Keith C. Whitehead, BAC dean of men, at the conclusion of the ceremony.

Do You Have A Hobby?

The Boulevard staff is sponsoring a "Hobby Contest" for students with unusual or interesting hobbies. Several students have already submitted entries. The contest is open to all students, and entries will be submitted to the contest committee. The entries will be judged on originality, creativity, and presentation. The contest will be held on Saturday, the 15th of next month, at the Boulevard auditorium. Athlete of the Week

This week, Bardell Bailey was chosen as athlete of the week on the basis of his playing thus far in the season.

Playing in the line is necessary, but unobtrusive, and the homework seldom seems the week due them.

The end position, played by Bardell, requires both speed and power, which in both respects, Bailey is well equipped.

Bailey graduated from Meridian, where he played football, basketball, track and baseball.

Bardell said that he came to IAC because they fire good就行了 in football would be an aid to both in his college major, which is physical education. He is uncertain about the college he will go to after graduating from IAC, although he listed, as preferences, Idaho State and Idaho State.

Student Council

In connection with the campus rule which states that no liquor is to be brought or consumed on campus, under punishment of expulsion, students were bound to enforce and to appoint a service club to help enforce this ruling.

Voting membership privileges were John McNeil, president, Noela Halt, vice-president, Kirk McClenach, treasurer, Norey George, secretary and Jack Beers, sergeant-at-arms.

The council members included George Hildman, Homecoming chairman, William Leach, Student Union chairman, Theodore Bell, Homecoming editor, a delegate from the vocational department, and Mr. William Goodner, advisor.

Deadline Nearing For Registration of Floats

George Hildman, Homecoming chairman, announced that all floats for the downtown parade Saturday morning, October 21, must be registered in the activities office in the Administration Building by 5:00 p.m., Wednesday, October 18.

The committee of 11 boys from the Homecoming court registered the 11 floats presently in progress. Nine of these were built for the parade to go through six-week parade period prior to formal admission to the club.

Bill Brown, draftee of the IAC chapter of the I.A.M., extended an invitation to freshmen and sophomores who would like to join.

Any IK member, said, would be available for applications for membership.

Men's Basketball

Kemp, of the Drake, won by a score of 35-24.

Ralph H. Brown, fullback, offers a last-quarter touchdown in the night against the Idaho State Trojans, which the Broncos took by a score of 55-0.

CROWD OF 7,000 FANS WATCH BJC'S BRONCOS RAMP PAST TRINIDAD 55-0

The Boise-Broncos made a four straight as they dropped a small first varsity crew from Colorado's Trinidad 55-0, before a crowd checked in at 7:30 here Saturday night.

The game was highlighted by the first running of Paul Han, Boise tailback, and Herman Hohnse, Boise right half.

Han scored two touchdowns on a four-yard run, and a 70-yard kickoff return, and added two points on a conversion.

Hohnse scored three touchdowns on a 70-yard run, then added two more against the Trinidad squad.

Intercollegiate Knights Take In New Pledges

The I.A.M. Golden Fleece chapter of the Intercollegiate Knights received 11 new men members at their weekly meeting last Tuesday. The new pledges are Tom Morgan, Dail Miller, John Liston, Gary Culpwell, Joe McGahey, Gary Van Clever, Bob Heider, Bill Kimball, Bob Green and Jim Sheble.

According to the by-laws of the constitution, the new men must go through a six-week pledge period prior to formal admission to the club.
