DANCE CHAIRMEN

Annual Christmas Formal Shows Record Alumni-Student Attendance

The annual Christmas dance of BJC took place in the Student Union December 29.

"Christmas in Black and White" was the theme of the ball, and the alumni danced to the music of Gib Hochstrasser's band. A revolving mirrored globe reflected flashes of orange light throughout the darkened room.

White trees decked with pink bulbs were arranged in the corners, and white crepe streamers decorated the ceiling.

Because of the unexpectedly

Schedule Set For Organization Pics

Club pictures for the BJC yearbook, the Les Bois, will be taken during the next two weeks, announced Maureen Mundorff, organizations editor.

These pictures will be taken at the club meetings, and members of the clubs are urged to be present for them.

Les Bois staff members are contacting club advisors to arrange dates for the various organizations.

Clubs which do not meet during the two-week period are asked to make arrangements for a convenient time to have the pictures taken.

Notice From Registrar

Students contemplating enrollment at Boise Junior college for the first time at the beginning of the second semester should contact the registrar at once for the necessary forms on which to file application for admission. It will be advantageous to the incoming student if completed papers are filed in the office of the Registrar on or before January 10, 1954.

All incoming college freshmen who have made application for admission to BJC for the second semester and who have had no other college attendance should take the entrance examination beginning at 8:30 a.m. on February 2 at the Student Union ballroom.

Acting Registrar and Director of Admissions

"Snowball" Dance Sponsored By IK's

The Intercollegiate Knights organization sponsored the "Snowball" dance last Saturday evening in the Student Union ballroom.

Informal ski clothes were worn to correspond with the decorations of the crossed skis and ice skates.

Bob Ricks and Tom Goodman provided the entertainment with "Okie" routines to several records.

Dave Murdock and Sandy Dean (duchess for the organization) were in charge of the intermission. Co-chairmen for the affair were Darrel Vail and Roger Yount.

Panel Makes Appearance On Local TV Program

Lunick and its implications engaged the attention of a panel of experts from BJC Friday, January 9, on the Bonnie Wallis show over channel 2, KBOI-TV.

This was another in the series of television shows arranged by John Woodworth of the BJC speech department.

Included in the panel on the space age were Dean Ace Chatburn, Mr. Roy Schwartz, Dr. Dan Bonnell and Mr. Norman Dahm.

UP Service Head Speaks At BJC

Mr. Sandor Klein of the United Press wire service in Boise was a guest speaker for the journalism class recently, when he talked on wire service job opportunities of today.

Mr. Klein, who is the head of the public relations of the UP office in Boise, told the group of the

Westminster Club Plans Wednesday Devotional

The Westminster club will be in charge of tomorrow's devotional to be held at 9:50 a.m. in the campus auditorium.

Organ music will be presented by Mr. C. Griffith Bratt.

Faculty Members Plan European Summer Tour

An unusual opportunity to tour Europe as a part of BJC's college course is being offered by Miss Helen Moore and Dr. Robert DeNeufville this summer.

The tour, combined with a one-semester course of preparatory study, will offer six academic credits.

Recognizing the value of travel, combined with theoretical study, the academic advisory committee agreed that the tour of Europe might well assume the character of a class project.

Miss Moore said that she would be glad to explain the details of the class work and the areas of travel to any student.

Message To Sophomores

Sophomores who have filed application for credential to be issued by Boise Junior college May 31, 1954, should check with respective advisors prior to second semester registration regarding the hours and points needed for completion of program.

Office of the Registrar

Tour members will leave New York on June 13 by way of KLM Royal Dutch Air Lines, will travel in eight countries—Belgium, Holland, Germany, Austria, Italy, Switzerland, France, and England—and will fly back to New York. Travel on the continent will be by private motorbus.

The cost of the tour, says Dr. deNeufville, will be $1195 from

Committee Will Interview For Summer Occupations

It was announced by Dr. Robert deNeufville that the secretary of the American Friends Service Committee, Mr. Robert Carlson, will visit the BJC campus on January 16.

Mr. Carlson will interview students who may be interested in devoting their summer to the work of his organization in its nationwide effort to give aid to mental-hospital patients.

Dr. deNeufville said that he would be glad to arrange appointments with Mr. Carlson.

Mr. Wain Offers Vocational Courses

Mr. Claude Wain has announced that some new classes will be offered in the vocational department at the start of the second semester.

Included among the new courses is one for technicians in warm air heating and air conditioning. This class will be run as an apprentice program.

There will be two new classes started for heavy-duty mechanics—math and blue print reading and sketching.

WHERE BJC TOURISTS WILL VISIT

Scheduled for a visit by BJC students are Saint Mark's cathedral in Venice, with St. Mark's square in the foreground; and the Colosseum in Rome by night. These are just two of the places students and townspeople will see on the BJC European tour being planned for this summer by Dr. Robert deNeufville and Miss Helen Moore.

IN OUR OPINION . . .

"Patronize Roundup advertisers" is more than just a phrase. It is the motto which makes the school paper available to you.

Without the Boise businessmen backing the student publication, through the means of paid advertising, the paper could not come out each week, free of charge, to its readers.

Most college papers have a regular subscription rate, but the Roundup is fortunate enough to have a fund set aside for it from the regular student-body budget. To break even, however, there must be a certain amount of advertising sold each week.

The Roundup does not try to sell "charity ads" those which are given merely for the sake of contributing to BJC. Most of the business establishments want to make sure they are getting some return on their money.

Not only should they expect this return they are entitled to it. Everyone knows a college student does not have much money to spend, but that which he does spend, could just as easily and should go to the businesses which support the college.

If the advertiser decides, however, that the ads he is running in the BJC Roundup are not bringing in the business for which they were intended, he has a right to withdraw his patronage and give his business to the medium most beneficial to his company.

This same situation can apply to the student. He has the privilege of choosing the establishments where he will do his business. If he goes to one of the Roundup advertisers, he is helping his school. If the business does not contribute to BJC, the student should go to the establishment which can do the most for himself and his school.

Remember: Patronize ROUNDUP advertisers!

College and Naval Reserve in a Nutshell

College students are a busy, pre-occupied breed. Their daily routine leaves little for other than studying, eating, sleeping and maybe a part-time job.

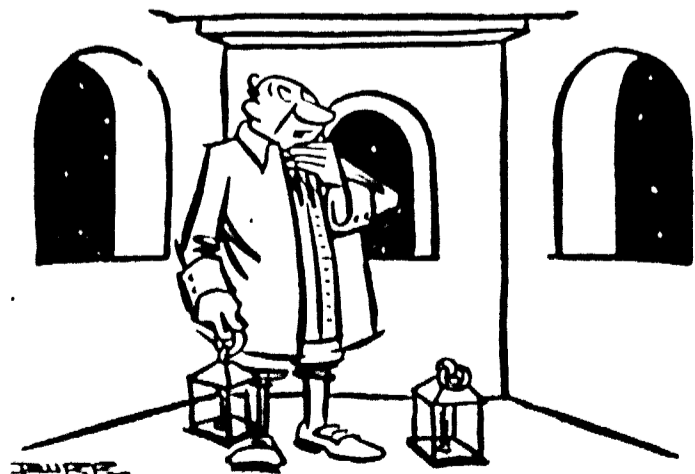

In a nutshell, "What does a Reserve program mean to a college student?" Two primary things strike home to the college student; namely, planning for the future and "money" (college costs money).

Why should a college student use his time in the service as an enlisted man? Let there be no misunderstanding, the enlisted man is the backbone of any branch of the service. In the Navy, for example, a ship could not get underway or be maintained without the crew to man it.

The point of contention is that time in college might just as well result in a commission as a Naval officer instead of eventually spending time in enlisted status. Training received in college benefits a man who enters the Navy, but by the same token training received in the service benefits the man who returns to civilian life. Training is continuous while on active duty, the best available, and a background for civilian life.

The idea "two, or three years is lost time while in the service" is not at all necessarily so. The Naval Reserve program here in Boise offers excellent officer and enlisted man training, and a day's pay each week with two week cruises each summer. It means money in the pocket and a retirement program worth $30,000. Look into it.

Dix Cloward, Business Instructor, Featured As Teacher of the Week

Mr. Dix Cloward, a BJC business economics instructor, is selected as "Teacher of the Week."

He was born in Monroe, Utah, and graduated from South Sevier High school in 1950. He attended the College of Southern Utah from 1950 to 1952 and then transferred to Utah State university.

He was married in the fall of 1953, and graduated from Utah

Mr. Dix Cloward

State in 1954, receiving a B.S. degree in business administration.

While attending college he was very active in ROTC, and he received the Air Force association medal in his junior and senior years. He was also chosen the outstanding graduate going into pilot training.

In further air force activities, he served as ROTC wing commander for San Jose State, University of California, University of Oregon, and the University of Hawaii.

In July, 1954, Mr. Cloward was commissioned in the air force and immediately began primary flight training at Columbus, Miss. He completed his flight training at Granddewey Air Force Base, Texas, and received his wings August 31, 1955.

Campus Query

By Thomas C. Dooley

Question: What new year's resolutions did you make?

Kathy Novis: I'm going to try and find the person that sent me a parking meter for Christmas.

Bob Ricks: I made a new year's resolution to do all my business in telephone booths.

Roy Register: I made a new year's resolution not to lend Tom Dooley any more money.

Liz Sharples: I'm not going to lend Tom Dooley any more money.

Ray Denny: I'm going to quit lending my friends money.

Tom Dooley: I'm going to try to borrow more money from my friends.

Lon Sillman: I'm going to watch out for swinging doors, and try to live up to my bird-dog reputation.

Keith Hawks: I'm going to quit spending so much money for clothes.

Beulah Holmes: I'm going to spend more time at home answering telephone calls.

Gordon Fox: I'm going to try to become better acquainted in the Boise area.

Bill Berry: I'm going to spend more time at home with my wife.

Bob Gilbert: I'm going to start taking piano lessons.

John Wilson: I'm going to spend more time reading "Peanuts."

Tom Goodman: I made a resolution to never join the air force.

Pat Medcalf: I'm going to try and be more polite to everyone.

Gary Brown: I'm going to try to improve my ping-pong game.

Fred Tanner: I'm going to spend more time playing cards and less time listening to music.

Sharon Paul: I'm going to try to make more definite decisions.

Student of the Week

Miss Judy Bothne

Miss Judy Bothne, a BJC dental hygiene student, has been chosen "Student of the Week."

Judy is 18 years old, and a graduate of Boise High school. In high school she was on the honor roll, a member of the national honor society, and in 1958 was named one of the outstanding students of the year.

In 1957 she was elected Fall Sports Queen by the letterman's club of Boise High school, and she was also president of the "Scarlet Skirts." Judy is presently a member of the Lifelines at BJC.

In her freshman year at BJC Judy was elected "Empire Girl" and was one of the finalists in the homecoming queen contest. Her hobbies include tennis, dancing, skiing, ice skating, hunting, fishing and watching sports.

Judy is not sure where she would like to complete her college education, but she does intend to obtain a degree in dental hygiene.

According to Judy, her favorite class this year is chemistry, under the "excellent instruction of Dr. Spink."

Shoes Show Special Symbolism; Represent Royalty, Riches & Romance

You may be living on a shoestring, but have you ever wondered why the old woman lived in a shoe, or why married life begins with a pair of old shoes tied to the wedding chariot? One of the oldest and most practical items in the human inventory is also one of the most storied. Shoe symbolism runs through many a folktale and many a baffling social rite.

Shoes have always signified prosperity, and a person's good or bad luck in achieving it. As soon as man learned to put sole and strap together, he wanted to be well-heeled—and to be in the more fortunate fellow's shoes. Hebrews swapped sandals to close a business deal.

A Symbol of Authority

Because it was the duty of the lowliest slave to tote his master's sandals, the humble and useful shoe became the symbol of authority and of downtrodden submission to rule. To this day we express deep admiration for someone by confessing ourselves "unworthy to carry his shoes." The Persians used to doff their shoes to royalty and deity, and even now all Moslems bare their feet when addressing Allah. Among the Vikings, however, an adopted son put on his foster father's shoe to indicate his filial obedience and his willingness to live within the older man's means.

Footwear as well as footwork soon became indispensable to romance. Yearning Grecians brought lovers back by fumigating the faithless one's scandal with sulphur and chanting suitably sulphurous love-charms. The Anglo-Saxon father of the bride gave his daughter's shoe to the groom. In Bombay, India, as in Boston, Massachusetts, wedding guests fling old shoes at the new pair.

See Shoe As Love Token

In addition to all this, many psychologists see the shoe as a

ENGINEERS CLUB

BJC Engineers club members met for a field trip to the state highway department where they witnessed a demonstration of the new Remington Rand computer.

The highway department located at 6th and Main in Boise, invited all interested persons to view the computer in operation during their office hours. Attending in a group, the club members met at the BJC parking lot and then proceeded to the department office.

A tentative meeting date has been set for the week of January 12-16, it was announced by Tom Lee, club president.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB

The Cosmopolitan club will hold their monthly dinner January 16 in the home economics room of the science building.

A Hungarian dinner is to be cooked and served by Sari Hargittay and her friends from Hungary.

Hungarian folk dancing will be taught by Sari Hargittay followed by more folk dancing under the direction of Miss Valeta Herabberger.

The December dinner was under the direction of Koorush Fouladpour.

Mrs. Camille Cramer announced that anyone interested in joining the Cosmopolitan club contact one of the following officers: Sari Hargittay, Billie Bunker or Arbell Gadjell.

SPANISH CLUB

First and second year Spanish students are urged to attend the meeting of the Spanish club to be held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Wendy Weaver, president.

A program consisting of movies of Spain and France will be presented by Mrs. Camille Cramer, club advisor, who took them during a trip there last summer. Refreshments will be served.

U. S. Government Requests Aliens Report Addresses

The immigration and naturalization service of the United States department of justice announced that all aliens in the United States, except a few diplomats, accredited members of certain international organizations and those admitted temporarily as agricultural laborers, must report their addresses to the government each January.

Forms for this purpose are available at any post office or office of the United States immigration and naturalization service. They may be filled out in those offices and returned to the clerk from whom received.

Parents or guardians are required to submit reports for alien children under 14 years of age.

DESERT BOOT

Although shoes are popular love tokens, they also can symbolize a sadder side of life. Woe betide the Arabian lady who is a less than perfect housewife. According to custom, her sheik may divorce her simply by making this ritual renunciation— "She is my slipper and I cast her off." —J. C. Penney photo

BJC Instructor Makes Survey For Southern Idaho Council of Churches

Dr. Paul E. Baker, chairman of the sociology department of BJC, was asked by the Committee of the Council of Churches of Southern Idaho to make a survey of the area to ascertain the need for new churches, the relocation of others or other major adjustments.

After 18 months of exhaustive study, Dr. Baker released a report of the survey.

Questionnaires were sent to leading citizens of 22 Southern Idaho towns. Some of the places included in the study were Boise, Nampa, Caldwell, Emmett, New Plymouth, Mountain Home, Weiser, Pocatello, Twin Falls and Idaho Falls.

The survey seemed to indicate that the churches tend to concentrate in the downtown areas of the communities. It was felt that the churches might do well to locate in the suburban areas where the people live.

It was also felt that the churches are neglecting the rural areas where much of the population is located in Southern Idaho.

The survey showed that the population of Southern Idaho is growing very rapidly. In the past 50 years the population of Idaho has grown from 161,000 to 588,000.

Some of the communities that have grown most rapidly are Arco, Mountain Home, Boise, Twin Falls, Idaho Falls and Pocatello. Such communities require an expansion of the church program.

It is worthy of commendation that the protestant churches of the traditional type of worship do not wish to compete with each other but wish to cooperate in the establishment of new organizations.

In some cases, an expansion of the program of existing churches will take care of the problems. In other cases new churches seem to be needed.

It was recommended that a local committee of the churches be set up in order to ascertain which denomination should build a new church. This could be done through a careful survey to determine which church is in greatest demand.

The survey indicated that a number of communities are "over-churches". In this case there is great competition among the churches in their efforts for new members.

Some of the suggestions offered to solve this problem were relocation, merger, federation or dissolution. Again a local committee might be organized to determine the steps to be taken to meet the situation. If the community is growing and promises considerable expansion in the future the present churches might be retained to meet the future need.

The denominations cooperating

Sophomore Nikki Balch has been chosen as a "College-Board Member" for Mademoiselle magazine because of her essay, "From Iran to Idaho," prepared for that publication.

Nikki's essay constituted the first part of a contest featured by the nationally-known magazine.

For this phase of the contest, Nikki wrote on her experience of helping Edward Adamian, an Iranian student at BJC, with his adjustment to American academics.

If Nikki's essay is accepted she may be chosen as a salaried guest editor of Mademoiselle magazine for the month of June.

Delta Psi Initiates Six New Members

Delta Psi Omega, the national dramatics society, tapped and initiated six new members following the presentation of the "Reluctant Debutant."

Bob Fifer, Ellen Hart, Marilyn Gaskins, Byra Petre, Dave Smith and Beth Rodwell went through the four stages of initiation specified by the national chapter, in order to gain admittance.

One stage of initiation, "comedy," was evident on campus last week by the costumes from Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream," which which were worn by the pledges.

Other degrees of initiation included a tragedy characterization, a written examination of theatre history, and a formal initiation ceremony.

By Sharon Paul

Ah, so! This new year holds many new days and many new happenings!

As I look into the crystal ball . . . I see absolutely nothing but glass. Ah, such disappointment.

So I look into the future instead; and what do I see there? Final exams! I'd rather look at the ball.

But wait, What is this? Pearl buttons!

Pearl buttons down the front of a Camiette sleeveless blouse by White Stag! This blouse is tiny plaid from top to seam with a slim pointed collar. Styled in a sharp straight cut, it looks good tucked in or left out. Just $3.95!

Great revelation! Look at this! Tone-on-tone plaid Calfskinner pants, planned to flatter your leg-line. A pocket is concealed in the side seam. Oh, the wonders of this modern age!

The pants sell for $7.95. The colors are reddish-pink, blue-green and brown and white plaid. The blouses match!

Shop Anderson's! The new year will be brighter.

Utah Teams Beat Broncos 62-55, 69-53 In First Two Conference Games

BJC's basketball team lost their first two Intermountain Collegiate conference games last week, as the College of Southern Utah defeated them Thursday night by the score of 62-55 and Dixie won 69-53 Friday night.

Bob Meyer was the big gun for the Broncos both nights, scoring 16 in the first game, and 18 in the second.

NEW VOCATIONAL COURSES (Continued from page 1)

The United States Forest Service is starting a class for its own personnel. This class will deal in human and public relations.

A group of 30 nurses recently finished a 60-hour course in pharmacology at St. Margaret's Hall, and a new class will be started about February 15. Only licensed practical nurses are eligible for this class.

Tentative plans are being made for a welding class to be offered to the day-time students as a one-year course. It will be offered at night, but only to those in the field of welding, and the allied fields.

Mr. Wain added that there is still room for more students in the wood shop and auto body and fender shops.

EUROPEAN TOUR

New York to New York. The cost has been kept reasonably low, he added, so that students may have the opportunity of traveling in Europe and seeing many of the art treasures and historical landmarks.

Among high lights listed in the brochure are the Vatican and St. Peter's in Rome; the cheese market in Alkmaar in Holland; a Shakespearean play at the Memorial theatre in Stratford-on-Avon in England; a gondola ride on the Grande Canal in Venice; the Colosseum and the old Forum in Rome; the Leaning Tower in Pisa, and the Eiffel Tower in Paris. Also the Dolomites and the Swiss Alps, Lake Lucerne, and Picadilly Circus in London.

Dr. deNeufville and Miss Moore, who are conducting the tour, have both traveled in Europe and are familiar with the places in the itinerary. Dr. deNeufville, who speaks several languages, is European born and educated. The two faculty members cooperated in selecting the route and planning the six weeks tour.

In preparation for the tour a night class in European civilization will be offered next semester and a syllabus for the course is now available.

Credit up to 6 hours may be earned in the fields of art and sociology for participation in the course and the trip. The course will be conducted by Dr. deNeufville and Miss Moore with the help of other faculty members, townspeople, and KLM facilities.

Several Boise residents have indicated interest in joining the tour and some BJC students are already making plans to secure their passports and receive their small-pox vaccination.

Any interested students may obtain brochures from Miss Moore's office, 105, or from Dr. deNeufville.

SPECIALTY IN SHOES

Freudian slipper, symbolic of female sexuality. That accounts, say they, for its worldwide use as a love token, and also explains the large family of that shoe-dwelling lady.

More whimsical theorists maintain that the shoe's usefulness in pursuit and its tendency to pair off make it a fitting symbol of love. In any case, the Cinderella story has been translated into all languages. Throughout the world, the quest for the shoe's elusive owner represents the search for the ideal mate; to some less charming princes, however, the lady's slipper represents merely a champagne container.

Having helped its wearer to love and money, the shoe marches on. In India, magicians stop storms by beating hailstones with a shoe, and villagers tack a sandal to the roof to protect their hearth and home. In Germany, shoes will shoo nightmares if placed wrong end to at the head of the bed, and the frau who dons her slippers on their wedding day will have easy childbirth. Shoes lined up in a row on Christmas eve signify the Scandinavian family's intent to live peaceably together in the coming year. But the shoe can also become the sad symbol of a broken home. In divorcing his wife, an Arab makes this ritual renunciation: "She is my slipper and I cast her off."

Coach Ray Lewis Begins Intramural Basketball

Intramural basketball begins this week, according to Ray Lewis, P.E. instructor.

Any student interested in participating in the winter basketball program is invited to contact Coach Lewis at the coaching department of the gym.

Last year the students entered six teams for league competition. So far this year, only four squads have been signed, with at least two more expected by the end of the week.

BJC Broncos Win One, Drop One To Columbia Basin In Two-Game Series

Athlete of the Week

Deanna Noff

Although her preference is swimming, Deanna Noff excels in many sports, giving her the nomination for "Athlete of the Week."

During her years at Twin Falls High school, she was on the swimming team, which placed at the top at all the local meets. She also passed the test which qualifies her as senior life-saver.

Deanna participated in the girls' tumbling team, which performed at several school assemblies and other social functions.

As a freshman at BJC last year, she was selected captain of the girls' hockey team. This year she is learning to bowl and averages 120 points. Deanna is also trying to master the trampoline.

Basketball and badminton are more of Deanna's specialties, and she has done most of her work in basketball on church teams.

Deanna's college major is nursing. She was already a licensed practical nurse before taking the two-year program of nursing here.

Deanna is a member of the Golden Z's.

Columbia Basin's basketball team topped BJC 74-58, in the opening of a two-game series December 19 in Boise.

Bob Meyer worked a two-handed set shot to perfection for a short spell in the first half and early in the second period for seven buckets and 14 points.

Despite a brilliant passing display by Ron Hunt, BJC was never in the game after an 11-point run by Columbia in the first half.

The BJC five made their one and only concentrated drive when Meyer started with a 30-footer followed with a jumper by Hunt, from 15 feet away. Columbia hit from along the base line, but Meyer came back with two more long-distance shots to cut the margin 17-14.

Other BJC sparkers were McKell Crawford and Dan Murphy.

BJC upset the high-stepping Columbia Basin team by winning the second game 56-43, in the two night of play.

Meyer rammed in 17 points and Inderriden 15 to lead the Boise point parade. The two veterans shared honors with freshman Charlie Henry and Doug Bunch.

Bunch came off the bench late in the first half to pull the Broncos behind with a quick spurt, and sparked them into a 30-25 halftime lead.

Henry, showing plenty of action in the second half, was a scrambler on the backboards and helped BJC control the play in the final 10 minutes as Columbia pressed for the ball.
