

Down and Out in Ada County

Coping with the
Great Recession
2008–2012

Allan R. Ansell

David Stantie, 49, formerly a full-time carpenter for CM Company, has been riffed and rehired three times in the last three years. Now a student at Boise State, he works part time in a liquor store.

The Investigate Boise Student Research Series

The Boise State University College of Social Sciences and Public Affairs proudly sponsors a nine-credit field school for the study of the Treasure Valley. Each summer, about 40 students interact with professors, practitioners and public officials in a storefront classroom downtown.

Students tour, investigate and compose documented research papers concerning political and social problems that vex municipal government. Top papers are peer-reviewed and edited for publication.

Topics include housing and homelessness, neighborhood preservation, the political economy of energy and natural resources and the challenge of urban renewal downtown. For information and sponsorship opportunities, contact Dean Melissa Lavitt at sspadean@boisestate.edu; (208) 426-3776.
