FRESHMAN ACTIVITIES

Highlight of the Freshman class activities for the school year 1940-41 was the informal, all-school "Blue Skies" dance held in the Elks' Ballroom February 28. In keeping with the theme, the setting was an enchanting scene of blue decorations and soft blue lights. Sterling music was provided by George Ganz and his orchestra.

The dart-tossing concession sponsored by the Freshman class in the Associated Women's Carnival January 24 was a huge success. Proceeds went into the class treasury. Two class meetings were held during the school year: the first in October, especially to discuss class finances; the second in January, for the purpose of arranging for the Freshman dance.

Plans at present are being formulated by the Freshmen to leave a bronze plaque in commemoration of being the first freshman class of the new Boise Junior College campus.
